NATO DEFENDS KYIV, BLAMES MOSCOW FOR WAR

"There is nothing, absolutely nothing, to suggest that it was an intentional attack on Poland," Polish President Andrzej Duda said. Echoing the same, NATO secretary-general Jens Stoltenberg said it was likely caused by a Ukrainian air defence missile. "This is not Ukraine's fault. Russia bears ultimate responsibility... The whole incident is caused by Russia's war"

UK, INDIA DOOR OPENS FOR 3,000 GRADS

Britain on Wednesday announced the contours of the UK-India Young Professionals Scheme, under which the UK will offer 3,000 places annually to 18-30 year-old degree educated Indian nationals to come to the UK to live and work for up to two years. The scheme will be reciprocal. The announcement was made after the first bilateral meeting Modi had with Sunak | P9

Assures tenure will be inclusive, ambitious, decisive, action-oriented

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday formally took charge of the G20 presidency from Indonesian President Joko Widodo in Bali, with the former assuring it will be inclusive, ambitious, decisive and action-oriented.

"Together with every country's efforts, we can make the G20 summit a catalyst for global welfare," Modi said at a brief ceremony.

In the Bali Declaration to which India had constructively contributed, members deplored in the strongest terms Russia's aggression against Ukraine and demanded its complete and unconditional withdrawal from the annexed territories. It also deplored Russia's veiled threats on the use of nuclear weapons, saying it was inadmissible.

"Today's era must not be of war," the declaration said, echoing Modi's remark during his bilateral meeting with Russian President Vladimir Putin at Samarkand in September. It acknowledged differences among members on the Ukraine war but emphasised the need to adhere to international law, including protection of civilians caught in conflicts.

Earlier in the day, while addressing a session on digital transformation, Modi said it could be a force multiplier to fight global poverty.

"Can we take a pledge together that in the next 10 years we will bring digital transformation in the life of every human being, so that no person in the world will be deprived of the benefits of digital technology?"

Modi added.

On the sidelines of the G20 meet, Modi held bilateral talks with six heads of state — British Prime Minister Rishi Sunak, French President Emmanuel Macron, German Chancellor Olaf Scholz, Italian PM Giorgia Meloni, Singapore PM Lee Hsien Loong and Australian PM Anthony Albanese.

One interesting talking point was on how Chinese President Xi Jinping went after Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau over the leaked reports of their bilateral meeting. An agitated Xi was seen saying, "Everything we discuss has been leaked to the paper, that's not appropriate." Trudeau responded, saying: "We believe in free and open and frank dialogue." Xi retorted, "Let us create the conditions first." P12

Abduction charge as AAP's Surat nominee opts out

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

AMID high drama, the Aam Aadmi Party's Surat (East) candidate Kanchan Jariwala on Wednesday announced his withdrawal from the poll race, but the party alleged he was forced to do so by BJP goons who had kidnapped him the previous day.

Taking cognisance of the matter, the Election Commission of India directed the Gujarat chief electoral officer to inquire and take action "as warranted".

It issued the order after a four-member AAP delegation led by Delhi Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia met commission officials in the evening and handed over a representation after holding a protest outside the EC office in Delhi.

While Jariwala released a video statement in the morning denying he was kidnapped, AAP leader Sanjay Singh pointed to another video showing their candidate surrounded by unidentified persons and some police personnel entering the Returning Officer's office.

"Yesterday, some BJP goons took Jariwala to the Returning Officer's office and tried to get his poll nomination cancelled. But it could not be done since the papers were in order, so they kidnapped him. Our candidate has been missing ever since and his house is locked. What kind of election is this?" Singh wondered.

The BJP rebutted the allegations with Union minister Anurag Thakur accusing AAP of making false claims to cover-up charges of corruption against it. "Those who once agitated against graft are now neck deep in corruption," he said.

For his part, Jariwala took a Zen-like position: "During the election campaign people asked why I became an anti-national and anti-Gujarat party candidate. I listened to my inner voice and withdrew without any pressure." Sanjay Singh claimed the chief electoral officer of Gujarat was apprised on the situation on Tuesday night itself after the party failed to get in touch with Jariwala.

INDIA USING TECH AS WEAPON IN WAR AGAINST POVERTY, SAYS PM

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE & UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

STRESSING the importance of technology in a swiftly developing India, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday said the country is using technology in its war against poverty.

Virtually inaugurating the 25th edition of Bengaluru Tech Summit (BTS) 2022 here, the PM cited some favourable technology-oriented measures the country has undertaken to alleviate the poor, such as Svamitva scheme (use of drones), Jan Dhan Aadhaar Mobile (JAM) Trinity, etc. While Svamitva has brought authenticity to property records and provided the poor with access to credit, JAM ensured direct benefit transfer, he said.

The theme of the summit this year is "Tech4NextGen".

"Innovation is important. But when backed by integration, it becomes a force. Technology is being used to end silos, enable synergy and ensure service. On a shared platform, there are no silos," he added.

Highlighting the role of the country's youth is its tech journey, Modi emphasised that the future will be much bigger than the present, thanks to India's innovative youth and increased access to technology. "The youth has ensured tech and talent globalisation. We are using our talent for global good," the prime minister said.

Today, a mobile and data revolution in the country has increased connectivity. In the past eight years, broadband connections have risen from 60 million to 810 million, while smartphone users increased to 750 million from 150 million. Interestingly, internet growth is faster in rural areas. "A new demographic is being connected to the information superhighway," Modi said.

On the importance of democratising technology, Modi cited the example of Ayushman Bharat, which provides a safety net for nearly 200 million families, and the Covid vaccination drive, which ran on tech-driven platforms.

Affair sparks PM 'security breach' at HAL Airport

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A 'security breach' at HAL Airport on November 9, just two days before Prime Minister Narendra Modi was to land there on his visit to Bengaluru, threw the Central security agencies and the police into a tizzy.

But it has now turned out that the 36-year-old intruder, a mason, who had reached Bengaluru on November 6 for the first time — and knew nothing about the city — was on the run from his lover's husband. He had jumped over the HAL Airport's perimeter wall in the small hours of November 9 without knowing that he had entered a high-security area. The alert Central Industrial Security Force (CISF) personnel, maintaining vigil along the wall through patrols and CCTV cameras, found the intruder attempting to scale the airport compound twice near gate number 3. When he did manage to jump in, they immediately apprehended him near the trolley gate of the defence airport. He was later handed over to the jurisdictional HAL police for questioning.

However, the matter of "security breach" was reported to the Central agencies as HAL Airport was being sanitised for fool-proof security

Domes on bus shelter: BJP vs BJP in Mysuru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

IT'S BJP versus BJP. The controversy over dome-shaped bus shelter, which has come up on the Mysuru Ooty Road, has pitted BJP MP Pratap Simha against party MLA S A Ramadas.

While Simha is the MP for Mysuru-Kodagu Lok Sabha constituency, Ramadas represents the K R Nagar assembly constituency in the district.

The controversy started last week when Simha threatened that he would demolish the bus shelter which has dome-like structures on it which resembles a mosque. Ramadas, however, clarified that the idea behind the design was to make it look like Mysuru Palace.

The local authorities swung into action and put up a flex carrying images of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, Suttur Mutt seer Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji and Shivarathri Rajendra Swamiji on the bus shelter.

Newly appointed Police Commissioner B Ramesh and DCP Pradeep Gunti inspected the place, following which security was beefed up around the bus shelter on Wednesday. Gunti also spoke with NHAI officers and KRDIL officials who had halted the work.

Labour dept hit by severe staff crunch

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

THE State Labour Department that implements close to 30 schemes of the state and Union governments is hit by a severe staff crunch.

Of the total 888 posts, 407 posts are vacant, which means the department is functioning with only 50 per cent staff.

There are many welfare schemes, especially meant for labourers from the unorganised sector who form a majority of the state's population, which is implemented by this department.

The schemes are aimed at skill improvement, financial aid, medical assistance and education to their children, which are implemented by labour inspectors on the ground.

There are only 81 labour inspectors for 233 taluks. "The size of our department is small, but we cater to a large number of people. We need at least one labour inspector for every taluk who works on the ground. Sanctioned strength for labour inspectors is 147, but only 81 are working," said a senior official.

The department works for the implementation of various labour laws, monitoring of working conditions and ensuring payment of minimum wages.

Ejipura EWS quarters residents move HC, demand flats

Court issues notice to urban development department secretary, BBMP commissioner, Maverick Holdings director, and BDA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AN undertaking given before the Karnataka High Court by Bruhat Bangalore Mahanagara Palike and Maverick Holdings Private Limited a decade ago, on developing a housing complex for the original allottees of Economically Weaker Section quarters in Ejipura, Koramangala, has not been fulfilled. Temporary sheds were to be provided till the completion of apartments, but even those are not livable, the allottees said, moving the High Court.

Explaining their sufferings due to an inordinate delay in fulfilling the undertaking, the parties also failed to comply with terms of the agreement between BBMP and Maverick Holdings Private Limited.

Hearing the petition on Wednesday, a division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi observed that their grievance requires consideration by court, and issued notice to the secretary, department of urban development, BBMP commissioner, director of Maverick Holdings Private Limited and Bangalore Development Authority.

The court had passed an order in August 2012, after BBMP undertook to make available five acres of land in Iglur on Hosur Road, for rehabilitation of 1,512 original allottees. BBMP promised to hand over possession of the site within 15 days to Maverick, which was to start constructing temporary transit sheds and other infrastructure for their temporary rehabilitation within four weeks.

Referring to the undertaking, counsel for the petitioner submitted that temporary sheds were constructed in a distant place, so some of the allottees were unable to occupy them. Those who occupied the sheds found that they lack basic facilities.

Counsel also submitted that Maverick was to construct apartments within 24 months from the date of issue of the commencement certificate, as per terms agreed, but did not complete construction.

He submitted that to date, neither is the commencement certificate issued nor are the apartments been fully constructed.

It was also submitted that after Maverick failed to comply, BBMP should have come forward to complete construction and hand over apartments to the allottees within a reasonable time, but it failed to take any steps.

BBMP now counts busts, statues in Bengaluru

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

HOW many busts and statues are there in Bengaluru? Even the city corporation does not know.

Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) engineers have now been entrusted with the task of counting the number of statues in the city and to verify whether they are legal. This, even as BBMP continues to get permission from citizens and organisations to erect more busts and statues. Officials said they get an average of eight applications per day and most of them are to erect statues of politicians and eminent people. The maximum applications are for Puneeth Rajkumar and Kempegowda statues.

"There is no record at one place as to how many statues there are and how many are legal. Earlier, applications for putting up statues and busts were cleared during BBMP council sessions. But for the last two years, there has been no Council, and there are no records as to what happened. While we are taking up the count, we have directed all zonal offices to search for files, ward wise and compile all the data. This exercise was never given importance by councillors," said a senior BBMP official, seeking anonymity.

While taking up encroachment clearance drives, we found that many busts and statues have been erected at traffic junctions, causing inconvenience to motorists

A BBMP official

The exercise is also important as the Karnataka High Court has directed BBMP engineers to clear footpaths, while many of these statues stand in the middle of pedestrian ways. The engineering and revenue sections of BBMP are now working overtime to ascertain who gave permission for these structures.

"While taking up encroachment clearance drives, we found that many busts and statues have been erected at traffic junctions, causing inconvenience to motorists. If they have to be removed, we need to know the status. As it is a sensitive issue, are taking each step cautiously, to ensure that all legal procedures are followed," the official added.

Karanth Layout: 3rd tender round soon

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

FIVE out of nine packages to create civic utilities in the Bangalore Development Authority's upcoming Dr Shivarama Karanth Layout will go in for a third round of tendering shortly as only single bidders have made the cut in the technical round. The total cost of these five packages is Rs 1,233 crore.

A top BDA source said, "Single bids can be accepted only under exceptional circumstances. Now, Packages 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6 will be retendered." The nine packages which will cover the nine sectors in the layout had been totally tendered for Rs 2,475 crore on October 11.

These are the approximate costs of the packages that will be retendered: Rs 267.77 crore (P1); Rs 224.79 crore (P3); Rs 212.16 crore (P4); Rs 273.62 crore (P5) and Rs 254.65 crore (P6).

The formation of sites, construction of roads, road side drains, cross drainage works, storm water drains, rainwater harvesting, protection works including water supply, UGD and electrical works are covered in each package.

The source said, "There were more than one bids when they were first opened. One package had two and another had three bids. However, due to non-submission of required technical documents, their bids were rejected. We will go for the third round for these sectors. With the other four packages, the firms that have cleared the technical round will have to clear the financial round. The process is on and will be completed in a week."

Nil response

The first round of tendering was done on March 22 this year and it got nil response. The second tender was called on October 11 and the third is set to follow now.

The Supreme Court had ordered the completion of the tendering process by September-end and this could not be met and BDA sought extension. It also asked the Justice A V Chandrashekar committee to supervise the layout formation. The layout formation at a revised cost of Rs 5,337 crore was approved by the state government in July this year.

Old junk from Lalbagh fetches ₹5 lakh

ENS @Bengaluru

FOLLOWING directions from their superiors to get rid of waste items, officials at Lalbagh have auctioned off close to 535 cabinets, chairs, and tables, among others, earning Rs 5 lakh in the process. The drive was initiated in July this year and Horticulture Department Principal Secretary Rajendra Kumar Kataria has dashed off a letter to the concerned department, and the message was sent across various districts to enumerate old and broken things to be scrapped, so that the new equipment could be procured.

"We had to work even during holidays, extending our work hours and across districts which had listed items to be scrapped and sent to the Joint Director Administration's office in Bengaluru. From the Lalbagh Botanical Garden office alone, 535 items were discarded and auctioned for Rs 5 lakh. They will soon be taken out of the garden," said an official from the Horticulture Department's Admin section.

Apparently, several items like tables, chairs, and cabinets were in a bad shape, and were dumped at the director's office for over two months.

17th November: An Aries pattern adds a touch of spice to today's creative tensions, bringing a potent combination of gut instincts and heady ideas. If Aries and Gemini have one thing in common, it's an ability to adapt to the unexpected. Many people will be taking up fixed positions - which is precisely why I'd say it's time for the rest of us to compromise.

ARIES

(Mar 21 - Apr 20)

It's a pleasant social day, but then new element introduced into your chart today talks about work. In fact, talking is just what you should be doing now, so learn your lines: you should be word perfect! The last thing you want to do is leave somebody in the dark.

TAURUS

(Apr 21 - May 21)

It's a business day, so don't waste your time. Mercury is now your most helpful planet, and that's an excellent indication for those who have been having difficulties with children. But, then again, it's also a useful moment for everyone who is young at heart.

GEMINI

(May 22 - June 21)

The important celestial events this week occur once a time, so you should be able to cope! Today's significant planets bring the chance for improvements in family relationships and domestic conditions. But they could also bring rising costs in their wake!

CANCER

(June 22 - July 23)

A very important financial phase is now coming to an end - almost. One last factor remains in play, encouraging you to forge personal connections. Also, a romantic offer may now be back on the table. Should you accept? Well, perhaps - but keep an escape route open.

LEO

(July 24 - Aug. 23)

You're approaching a prosperous and playful phase, and that should be some consolation for the pressure you've been under. Better still, an emotional wound will soon be healed - and not before time, you might say. An employer needs special treatment, by the way, perhaps with a little well-timed flattery.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)

Your current planetary alignments are fortunate, yet they do require a great deal of common sense. Stick to tried and trusted methods. Virgo. In the meantime, let a partner take the strain, for that's the price of responsibility. Also, it could do them good to learn a valuable lesson.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)

You might think you're almost at journey's end, but there's still some way to go. Over the coming months you will begin to discover just what is making a partner tick. What you find out will benefit your work, family relationships and romantic hopes. You couldn't want more than that!

SCORPIO

(Oct 24 - Nov. 22)

What you do is much more important than what happens to you. Only when you are absolutely sure of who you are and where you're going will your social life improve. The happy news is that this welcome state of affairs is now only around the corner. Can you wait? Well, you might have to!

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)

Discretion is essential. The problem is that if you tell people things they're not ready to hear, you may create one or two misunderstandings. A financial matter will be postponed until next week, but that doesn't mean that you can't get on and prepare your ground now.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)

You have really done rather well, and I think you deserve some recognition for this. Over the coming weeks you will be able to dust down old ambitions and add new successes to existing achievements. Partners will admire your persistence and - at last - back you to the hilt.

AQUARIUS

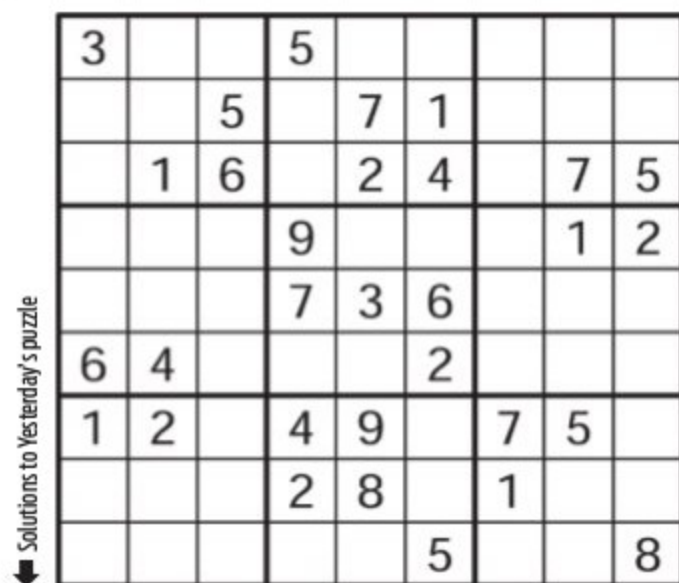

(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

You'll start thinking about what you can do to increase your earnings. There's no requirement to do anything now, so take just as long as you need to consider the issues. A favourite relation needs your backing, by the way, but you have to be fair and even-handed.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 - Mar. 20)

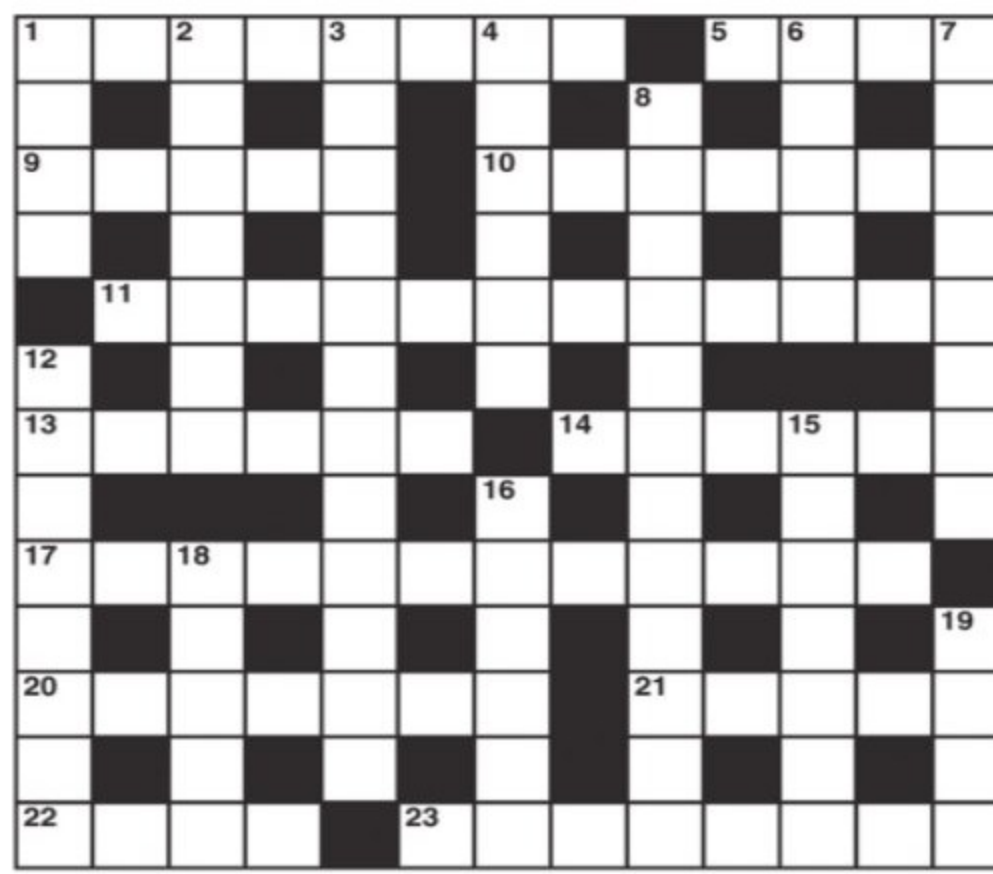

If you can think back to the changes which took place in recent months, you are now about to experience one of the same. The time-span is large, taking you over the next few months, so don't hurry. On the other hand, keep a sharp eye on passing professional opportunities.

All govt hosps to get 24/7 helpdesks

Minister says this will ensure no patient faces hurdles while accessing healthcare services

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Tumakuru:

HEALTH and Family Welfare Minister Dr K Sudhakar on Wednesday announced that 24/7 helpdesks will soon be set up at district general hospitals across the state to ensure that patients or their attendants do not face distress while accessing healthcare services.

The minister's decision came in the backdrop of the death of a pregnant woman, Kasturi (30), and her newborn twins after the Tumakuru District Hospital denied treatment, citing that she had no Aadhaar card. The news hit the headlines two weeks ago, and a duty doctor and three staff nurses were suspended from service.

"The helpdesks will work round the clock, and will be manned by four staffers, two on each shift, so that no patient misses treatment. The hospital authorities have the power to appoint the staff," he told reporters after reviewing

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar has a word with a woman holding her newborn grandchild at the Tumakuru district general hospital on Wednesday progress at the hospital.

He defended the suspension of duty doctor Dr Usha, who he said was very much on the scene when the victim was denied treatment.

"Suitable action will be taken against the guilty once the report into the incident is submitted to the government," he clarified. The health department director is probing the lapse.

"It is a shame on our system that pregnant women die during delivery, despite technological advancements. Doctors should be cautious while handling sensitive cases," he remarked. He reviewed national health programmes, cleanliness and disposal of waste in the hospital.

Inspecting the new trauma care centre, cancer hospital and mother-child hospital, he instructed the district health officer and district surgeon to send a proposal to the government on the requirement of human resources. MLA G B Jyothiganesh, Health Commissioner Randeep, Deputy Commissioner Y S Patil, ZP CEO Vidyakumari, district surgeon Dr Veena and others were present.

Sudhakar announced that the government will give compensation of Rs 10 lakh to Kasturi's six-year-old daughter. It will be kept in a fixed deposit in a bank and she can utilise it once she attains 18 years of age, against educational expenses. Until then, the government will take care of her, including education, he said.

Fortis performs 72 robotic surgeries in 3 months

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FORTIS Hospital has successfully performed 72 robotic surgeries (knee and hip replacement) since September 2022. To create awareness about the efficiency of robotic surgeries, the hospital launched an initiative to perform 100 robotic surgeries without adding any additional costs.

Akshay Oleti, business head of the hospital, said the the hospital currently provides robotic surgeries at the same cost as conventional surgeries to ensure the advanced procedures are more accessible.

In October, Ndeshiwangisa Senyaeli, a 66-year-old Tanzanian woman, was treated at the hospital. She was even unable to perform basic chores for 15 years and had co-morbidities like hypertension, asthma, heart defects among other's earlier. The doctors explained that both her knees were damaged due to osteoarthritis.

She could barely take a step when she arrived at the hospital. Dr Narayan Hulse, Director - Department of Orthopaedics, Bone & Joint Surgery, Fortis Hospital, explained that they performed a surgery using the Mako Robotic Technology within a gap of three days. The robot helped create a 3D virtual model of the damaged knee and plan the corrective surgery accordingly.

Dr Hulse explained that often, patients would be unhappy with the knee surgeries as the metal plates would often end up being inaccurately placed. With the MAKO robot, the technology has evolved as the robot calculates everything, all the angles and cutting of the bones as well, reducing inaccuracy to almost nil.

New startup park, six high-tech cities in six months, says CM

To come up in Mysuru, Hubballi-Dharwad, Bengaluru, Kalaburagi and Mangaluru

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE & UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

IN a big fillip to the state's startup ecosystem, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday announced plans to set up a dedicated startup park near the Kempegowda International Airport in Bengaluru in the next six months.

The state-of-the-art park will boast of specialisations and infrastructure geared towards emerging technologies, including agri-tech, climate tech and deep tech, which will boost the startup scenario in the city, state and country at large.

Addressing delegates at the silver jubilee of Bengaluru Tech Summit 2022, Bommai said the park will be multi-modal and help promote various spheres of the startup ecosystem.

India has the third largest startup ecosystem in the world, with Karnataka alone hosting over 17,800 startups in Bengaluru, while over 3,700 are outside the state capital. Expressing that Karnataka needs to do more to promote startups, Bommai also announced a Knowledge and Technology City near KIA going forward.

Bommai said the government is setting up six such new cities in the state over the next six months to promote the growth of knowledge and technology sectors.

These new cities will be developed in Kalaburagi, Hubballi-Dharwad, Mangaluru, Mysuru and Bengaluru. They will be well-planned, high-tech, and help promote IT, BT and startups, he added.

"We have been facing a lot of challenges, the globe is shrinking and life is reducing by the year, while natural resources are dwindling by the second. This is alarming. Unless there is an ambition on our part for a better life and better environment, we don't have a future. We have to give a better world to our children," the chief minister mentioned, calling upon leaders of the scientific world to innovate for the betterment of the human race and develop technologies to create a new healthy human being and future for all.

Lauding the startup sector in Karnataka for achieving distinction of housing the first and the 100th unicorns in the country, IT/BT Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan said the state government has set a target of achieving $300 billion digital economy by 2025, when the share of biotechnology will be $36 billion.

The 25th edition of Bengaluru Tech Summit has participants from over 30 countries, 350 domain experts in over 70 sessions, and attendance of over 5,000 delegates, apart from the presence of over 400 startups.

'India no more known for red tape, but for red carpet'

OVER the years, India has emerged as a major hub for IT and related services, and a robust launch pad for startups, with IT and business services market projected to touch $19.93 billion by 2025. Today, the country hosts around 100 unicorns (a startup that reaches $1 billion in valuation), with interests across sectors. India's talent pool has encouraged a host of global firms to open R&D centres here.

"India is no more known for red tape, but for a red carpet for investors. Whether it is FDI reforms, or liberalisation of drone rules, steps in the semiconductor space, production incentive schemes in various sectors, or ease of doing business, India has excellent factors coming together," Modi said.

Terming Bengaluru as the home of technology and thought leadership, and an inclusive and innovative city, the PM concluded that for many years, Karnataka's capital has been number one on India's Innovation Index.

Pandemic kick-started revolution in genomics

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE @ Bengaluru

THE Covid-19 pandemic wreaked havoc on humanity for two long years, but strides in the realm of genomics not only helped significantly arrest the spread of the coronavirus, but also aid developing measures to mitigate future threats. While it is understood that genomics will grow exponentially in the years to come, the pandemic highlighted that the genomics revolution is already here.

"While we are all thinking about the genomics revolution being sometime in the future, few of us realise that it is already here and has been around through the pandemic when the first indication of Covid-19 happened at the end of 2019, and China reported unknown, severe pneumonia-like cases. By January 9, 2020, Chinese scientists had already sequenced the SARS-CoV2 virus and had uploaded the sequences, which kick-started the race to find a cure, and that happened with leading pharma companies quickly developing the first mRNA vaccines that were rushed into the clinic within 60 days of that first sequence being made available," said Dr Joydeep Goswami, Senior Vice-President, Corporate Development and Strategic Planning, at US-based biotech major Illumina Inc.

Delivering the keynote on the theme 'Genomics Revolution 2.0 and its Implications' at BTS 2022 on Wednesday, Goswami said, "We had our first mRNA Covid vaccines approved by the FDA for broad dissemination across the globe, which was phenomenal, since this whole process unfolded without any firm ever touching the live virus. This was all based on the specific sequence that was presented to them."

Genomics refers to that branch of molecular biology concerned with the structure, function, evolution, and mapping of genomes (the complete set of genes in a cell or living organism). India's bioeconomy is valued at $80-90 billion at present, with a target set to reach $300 billion by 2030, and $500 billion by 2040.

Stressing on the relevance of genomics in vaccine discovery and distribution, Goswami explained, "Vaccines normally take about 4-5 years to come to market. However, making it in less than a year is a great achievement, which would not have been possible without genomics really providing the needed data in the first place. This is a great start."

Genomic surveillance is now available across countries, where viruses can be tracked. "We are now able to understand community spreads of disease, and expedite the use of genomic information to develop new vaccines, along with other control measures against the same. While we cannot stop the next pandemic, we can be better prepared and reduce its duration and impact," said Goswami.

India has much to gain in robotics: Experts

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

India is lagging behind in the global robotics race and cannot afford to be left behind in terms of manufacturing, opine experts.

Speaking at the 'Building Robotics Ecosystem for the Developing World: Challenges and Opportunities' at the Bengaluru Tech Summit 2022, Volvo Group India president Kamal Bali said that India is currently in its sweet spot to benefit majorly in the manufacturing sector. "We have stability in terms of policy framework, a huge startup ecosystem and a rebalancing of global value chain coming in over the last three years. India stands to gain the most. Manufacturing is also to get a leg-up and robotics is a big part of this. While manufacturing has only been 17% of our GDP, it may go up to 25% in the next five years. Robotics and automation is going to play a big role in this," he said.

UAVIO Labs Co-Founder, CEO and Chief Scientist Dr Arjun Jain also said that though India has a lot to offer in terms of talent, challenges still exist. "A benefit for robotics startups in India is that we have access to good talent. We must focus more on component building... this is a major issue that needs to change in the country. Policy has improved a lot... they are very forward looking. However, there remain many challenges, especially in terms of high import duties," he said.

India also has a bigger gap to fill in, said Ajay Gopalswamy, DiFACTO Robotics and Automation CEO. "In 2021, India was at 5,000 robots manufactured. We may pat ourselves on the back, but the fact is that we are only tenth globally, as compared to China who are manufacturing around 2,70,000 robots. There is a huge gap....," he added.

Firm launches genome-based tests in Bengaluru

Strand Genomic Wellness, a new line of genome-based tests for preventive wellness, was launched by Strand Life Sciences at the Bengaluru Tech Summit on Wednesday. A recent study showed that one in eight people who underwent predictive genomic testing were found to have a genetic risk of health condition and its diagnosis will help manage it better with preventive care. The genomic health insights will help understand the risk of developing inherited diseases that might develop in later stages of life. Strand Life Sciences CEO and founder Dr Ramesh Hantharaj said genomic based insights will bring advancement in terms of providing inherited insights to citizens. ENS

It's 'Bengaluru of Bharat', not Silicon Valley, says InMobi chief

Highlighting the boom in IT development and opportunities for startups in Bengaluru, Naveen Tewari, founder and CEO of InMobi Group, said, "In the next 10 years, India will write all the software on which the world will run, with Bengaluru at the heart of it. My greatest wish is that this city not be called the Silicon Valley of India anymore. Instead, I want this city to be called 'Bengaluru of Bharat' - the heart of India's and the world's greatest innovation." In his address as Guest of Honour at the Bengaluru Tech Summit, Tewari said, "We may have kick-started this journey, but it is because of the efforts of my fellow entrepreneurs that India has seen 100 unicorns just this year." To wriggle out of crisis, Jarkiholi brothers to put up show of strength

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

Caught in a crisis ahead of the 2023 Assembly elections, the Jarkiholi brothers of Gokak have decided to go all out to showcase their strength. Though there has been a tacit understanding between the brothers irrespective of their party affiliations so far, all five brothers will join hands publicly this time to send a message to both Congress and BJP that the fivesome are capable of changing political equations in the Belagavi region.

What forced Gokak brothers to come together is the way BJP snubbed MLA Ramesh Jarkiholi by depriving him of a cabinet berth due to his involvement in the sleaze CD case and fresh attempts made by leaders to weaken KPCC working president Satish Jarkiholi for his recent remark on the word Hindu.

"Preparations are on to hold Ahinda conventions by Jarkiholis separately in Belagavi and Chikkodi Lok Sabha constituencies to counter the systematic conspiracy being hatched by a section of leaders to suppress Jarkiholi family politically. Through the conventions, a message will be sent to political rivals of Jarkiholis that any attempts to target them would have a massive impact on the 2023 election results in Belagavi, which has 18 Assembly segments," a close associate of Jarkiholis says. The Jarkiholis are coming together for the first time, taking a serious note of the ongoing political tirade against their family. While the eldest of Jarkiholi brothers Ramesh and Balachandra are BJP MLAs from Gokak and Arabhavi, Satish is MLA of Yamakanamardi and Lakhani is MLC of Belagavi. Bheemshi Jarkiholi is away from politics and is a businessman. The Ahinda Samavesha to be organised in both the LS segments in Belagavi would involve leaders from all political parties, sources said, adding the Jarkiholis would showcase the mass support which they enjoyed in the region.

Sources said in the conventions, the brothers will respond to leaders who have sidelined Ramesh and kept him out of the state cabinet despite the key role he played to install the BS Yediyurappa-led BJP government in the state.

Muniyappa advises Siddu to take party workers into confidence

Bengaluru: Following Congress leader Siddaramaiah indicating that he may contest the 2023 Assembly polls from Kolar, his party colleague, former Kolar MP K H Muniyappa, urged him to take party workers into confidence. Local Congress leaders had complained that they were sidelined during Siddaramaiah's recent visit to the district. Speaking to reporters on Wednesday, Muniyappa indirectly hit out at former Speaker K R Ramesh Kumar for agreeing to support Siddaramaiah if he contests from Kolar. "There are some issues in the Kolar unit of the party. I have told Siddaramaiah to rectify these issues, and then contest from Kolar. If he trusts people who are not loyal, it will damage him," he said. ENS

'Recruitment in a phased manner'

A senior official, who did not wished to be named, told The New Indian Express that the staff shortage is increasing the workload of other employees. There is also an acute shortage of clerical posts.

When contacted, Labour Minister Shivaram Hebbar said, "We have written to the Karnataka Public Service Commission and our taking steps to recruit 45 labour inspectors. We have also got clearance to hire more than 230 clerical staff in our construction wing, who are mainly data operators. However, we cannot undertake the recruitment in one go and it will be done in a phased manner."

Another senior official said that the staff shortage is not limited to Karnataka alone. Other states like Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu and Punjab too are facing the same crisis. "The Labour Department is a neglected one. It is high time the government took steps to address the issue. There is a proposal to outsource hiring, but it is not advisable as contract employees themselves face many issues," he said.

Thenpennaiyar dispute: Tribunal likely in 4 weeks

Project will affect livelihood of lakhs of our farmers: Tamil Nadu

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Union government on Wednesday told the Supreme Court that it would take a decision regarding constitution of interstate river water disputes tribunal on the lines of Cauvery tribunal within four weeks to resolve the dispute between Tamil Nadu and Karnataka over the latter building a dam across Markandeya River, a tributary of Thenpennaiyar, at Yarkol in Karnataka.

The submissions were made before the bench of Justices MR Shah and MM Sundresh in a suit filed by the TN government.

Additional Solicitor General Aishwarya Bhati also told the court that the complaint by Tamil Nadu was referred to a negotiation committee and since there was no likelihood of settlement by negotiation, the Centre will likely constitute a tribunal to resolve the dispute between the two states within the next four weeks. Accordingly, the bench posted the matter to December 14, 2022.

With regard to the dispute raging since 2007, TN had filed a suit in SC in 2018 seeking a permanent injunction on the project. In its petition, TN had said, "The projects undertaken by the first defendant (Karnataka) would severely affect the livelihood of lakhs of farmers in Krishnagiri, Dharmapuri, Thiruvannamalai, Villupuram and Cuddalore districts as the flow of the river will be drastically reduced/hindered besides affecting drinking water needs."

Faujis to form new party, aim to cleanse rot in political system

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

A group of retired faujis has come together to launch its own political party, disillusioned by the rampant corruption and frustrations of civilian life.

Brigadier Ravi Muniswamy, former director of Sainik Welfare, Major Raghurama Reddy and Subedar Ramesh Jagtap toured Bagalkot, Vijayapura, Belagavi, Haveri, Hubballi-Dharwad and other districts, and realised that large numbers of soldiers are unhappy with the corruption and apathy of the administration, and volunteered to be foot soldiers to strengthen the new political outfit. They faujis call themselves the Sarvajanika Adarsha Sena, and their seriousness of purpose is demonstrated in their seeking the 'Rana Kahale' as their election symbol. Col Ravi Muniswamy said it is used to announce the start of war.

"In our context, it means a party to reform the functioning of the government, fight corruption and promote essential services like quality education. It aims to work towards a better society. Since military personnel are entering politics with the aim of reform, this has been chosen as the party symbol," he said. The standard refrain of soldiers who retire from the military is that most political parties do not comply with the high and impeccable standards set by defence forces.

Former Sainik Welfare director Col C Yathish Uttaiiah said the initiative by veterans gives hope to citizens who are disappointed with the degeneration of politics. "Veterans have a trained mindset, instilled with discipline and patriotism, to curb further degradation of the corrupt political system. They want to sanitise the 'rotten' system," he said.

Asked if the party will be limited to faujis, Col Muniswamy said everyone is welcome. "We want to make it an inclusive party. One key feature is orderliness and discipline, and everyone is equal. People from all religions—Hindu, Muslim, Christian, Sikh, Jain, Buddhist—are welcome. There will be no manifestation of religion which remains in their personal space, at home. The nation comes first."

Camera traps capture 3 missing tiger cubs

ENS @Mysuru

THREE days after launching combing operation, the foresters have traced the missing three cubs of the tigress which was killed after getting caught in a snare near Taraka Dam in Nagarahole Tiger Reserve.

Nagarahole Tiger Reserve DCF and director Harshakumar Chikkanaragund on Wednesday said they had launched the combing operation to trace the three cubs after the mother was found dead on November 12 in an agriculture land after getting caught in the snare which is 300m away from Antharasan forest range limits.

Around 130 forest staffers and four camp elephants, including Abhimanyu and Bhima, were involved in the combing operation. The foresters had also laid 30 camera traps and used two drone cameras to trace the cubs. They also found a half-eaten carcass of a deer on November 15. They immediately set up cameras around the carcass.

Chased by 'Kabali', bus driver hits reverse gear for 1 km

GOPIKA VARRIER @Thirissur

In the Tamil movie Kabali, the titular character immortalised by superstar Rajinikanth is a superhero who fights for his men and to protect his family from gangsters.

Kerala has a 'Kabali' too. However, this one is a 30-year-old tusker that is roaming on the Athirappilly-Valparai ghat road, chasing vehicles that intrude into his and his partner's privacy. Forest officials had first spotted the 'calm and gentle' tusker on Valparai road in 2019. However, since October first week, it has been a different Kabali that travellers are coming across.

Videos of Kabali chasing two-wheelers and tourists have gone viral on social media. On Tuesday too, the tusker was infuriated when a private bus tried to force its way through the narrow stretch while it was there. The elephant started chasing the vehicle, forcing the driver to drive in reverse gear for over 1km for nearly an hour. All the while, people in the bus were on tenterhooks as Kabali was in no mood to relent.

The reason for the change in Kabali's demeanour is that it is in musth, said Sholayar forest range officer Sajesh V.S. "Kabali has been in musth from the first week of October and is accompanied by a female elephant. Since it is their mating time, the tusker is violent and vigorous," he said. On October 29, foresters out on a patrol had a narrow escape when Kabali attacked their jeep. KSEB erected fence around Sholayar power house after Kabali raided the premises a week ago.

KERALA POLICE MUST KNOW DUTY, AUTONOMY GO HAND IN HAND

If there is something common in the first and second Pinarayi Vijayan-led LDF governments, it is the shoddy performance of the home department. A pet idea of the CM—giving a free hand to the police without any political control—was initially hailed as a progressive act on the part of the government. But a slew of incidents over time have subverted the idea of autonomy for the police force.

Close to 30 incidents of police atrocities, including custodial torture, sexual harassment, blackmail, bribery, drug peddling, and even thefts, have been reported in the recent past. Going by the National Human Rights Commission data, custodial deaths in Kerala witnessed a sharp spike in the last few years. In 2018–19 alone, the state recorded eight custodial deaths. The latest in the series of police atrocities is the POCSE case against two senior cops. The incident involving station house officers reflects the extent of decay that has set into the force. That such senior cops chose to zero in on the most vulnerable victims is evidence of the rot that seeped into the force.

It is not just the opposition complaining about the highhandedness of the state police. Several senior leaders, including CPM Central Committee Member P K Sreemathy and Assembly Speaker A N Shamseer, have spoken out against the atrocities committed by the police officers. Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan, who heads the home department, has been looking the other way even as his party cadre has been criticising how the home department is functioning. Surprisingly, a veteran politician like Pinarayi, known for his administrative capabilities, is earning the sobriquet of being one of the most ineffective home ministers the state has seen. He should take a lesson or two from his former party colleague Koderi Balakrishnan, widely perceived as one of the best home ministers Kerala has ever had.

Ugly wars that keep popping up from the police force are doing lots of damage to the socio-political ecosystem of the state. The increasing frequency with which reports of aberrations on the part of police officers are coming out shows the systemic rot that has set into the police force. Ad hoc measures are no solution if the government is serious about addressing the issues. Stringent disciplinary actions coupled with total cleansing are the need of the hour.

FIX BIAS THAT VICTIMISES POOR IN MEDICAL CRISES

A recent tragedy in Tumakuru, Karnataka, highlighted the pathetic state of healthcare in our rural ramparts. A pregnant woman, Kasturi, was turned away by government hospital authorities for failing to furnish her Aadhaar or Thayi card—the latter is part of a scheme for poor pregnant women. Kasturi went into labour that night, and she and her newborn twins died of complications, alone and untended. The inhumanity of the hospital authorities is chilling. A card, or the lack of it, cannot dictate who can access healthcare, especially in an emergency.

While the government has suspended the doctor and three nurses of Tumakuru District Hospital, the situation calls for tougher action. Health Minister K Sudhakar has promised to bring in a new law to fix accountability and punish doctors and staff of government hospitals. The gynaecologist has written to the Karnataka Government Medical Officers' Association, claiming that she was in the operation theatre and that Kasturi had declined admission. An ongoing inquiry will, no doubt, establish the facts of the case, but the bigger concern is that a poor woman's life holds little or no value in overcrowded government hospitals. The reasons for the pathetic healthcare conditions in rural areas are many—lack of medical infrastructure, equipment, doctors, nursing staff and availability of medicine. The national doctor-patient ratio is reported to be 1:1445, far below the 1:1000 ratio prescribed by the World Health Organisation. No doubt, it is worse in villages. The government claims the ratio is 1:834, which appears to be a manipulation of Ayush practitioners. Government investment in the health sector leaves much to be desired, and it is left to private hospital chains and insurance companies to run it like a profitable business.

Doctors cannot be faulted for avoiding low-paying rural services, which can also be demoralising. After spending crores of rupees on medical seats and fees, it is natural that they opt for jobs in private hospitals to recoup their expenditure and repay loans. It has become a vicious circle, and the primary fault lies in our education system, where medical seats are sold at a premium. Increasing the number of undergraduate and postgraduate seats in medical colleges and making education affordable will make medicine the noble profession it is meant to be and encourage doctors to work in remote areas. Until then, many more Kasturis will be denied basic healthcare.

QUICK TAKE

GET THE DIGITAL ACT TOGETHER

The government plans to draft the new Digital India Act by early 2023. An open and trustworthy online ecosystem to back India's techade is on the anvil. It assures to consult all stakeholders on the proposed laws. The draft must learn from mistakes made with the Information Technology Act of 2000: The draconian Section 66 was strangely in force even after the Supreme Court quashed it. The draft's efficacy depends on how it fixes criminal liability for new offences that new technologies will birth. The challenges will be protecting big data operations from cybercriminals and customer privacy during digital transactions.

As 2022 enters its last stretch, the security scenario in Manipur and Nagaland, two states torn by insurgency for decades, seems somewhat stable. However, scratch the surface and the picture is different. A major factor for the calm is that most Naga and Kuki insurgents are in a ceasefire agreement with the Government of India, holding talks to negotiate settlements.

There are nonetheless troubling signs in the case of the Nagas, with the National Socialist Council of Nagalim, NSCN(IM), arguably the most powerful, seemingly forced into a corner.

This became open on September 28, when it wrote a letter to the Chinese Communist Party (CCP), claiming that the Indian government has backtracked on a "Framework Agreement" signed on August 3, 2015, which agreed the two negotiating entities would continue to work towards a comprehensive peace settlement. The letter also indirectly urged the CCP to intervene and make the negotiations go forward besides thanking the Chinese government for its support to the Nagas from the 1950s onwards.

While it is unlikely that China will respond favourably, if at all, given the fact the country is not what it was in the mid-20th century—an underdeveloped country steeped in the Communist ideology, aligned with the Communist bloc in a Cold War with the Capitalist West. China, though still Communist in form, has embraced the Capitalist ethos of free market though under supervision of the State. It also sees itself not as a regional player anymore but a frontrunner in global politics and economy.

Once upon a time, China did openly support Northeast insurgents who claimed to have socialist leanings. The fact that even NSCN(IM), with its stated motto of "Nagaland for Christ", chose to call itself a socialist council when it came into being in 1980 after rejecting the Shillong Accord of 1975 signed between the Government of India and the original Naga nationalist group, Naga National Council (NNC), was also probably with an intention to gain China's patronage.

So, is NSCN(IM)'s appeal in the genuine hope that China would respond favourably, or is it a sign of desperation? From all indications, the latter seems closer to reality.

Today, the Naga armed movement is badly fragmented. There are several factions now, and very broadly, they are divided into two camps. On one side is NSCN(IM) and on the other, there are seven factions, most of them splinters of the NSCN faction led by the late S S Khapang, but have now come under one umbrella called Naga National Political Group (NNPG). While NSCN(IM) draws its leadership and cadre overwhelmingly from amongst Manipur Nagas, the factions in the NNPG are almost exclusively Nagaland-based. NNPG has shown willingness to settle the Naga problem in line with the Constitutional framework of India. There are also strong indications that they prefer a separate settlement for the Nagas of Nagaland and Nagas from outside Nagaland, isolating NSCN(IM).

The latter, on its part, has refused to have any settlement within the Constitutional framework and is insisting on a separate Constitution and flag for the Nagas, and this is where the matter is stuck. With the Nagaland Assembly elections due in February-March 2023, this matter is getting urgent. NNPG has reiterated that they want a peace deal before the election, failing which they would boycott the elections. Another group called Eastern Nagaland Peoples' Organisation (ENPO), which has long been demanding a separate "Frontier Nagaland" state, is also demanding a Naga settlement before the elections, or else, they too would join the NNPG in boycotting the election.

Eastern Nagaland comprises six districts—Mon, Tuensang, Kiphire, Longleng, Noklak and Shamator—which are inhabited by seven tribes: Chang, Khiamniungan, Konyak, Phom, Sangtam, Tikhir and ent that crises could erupt endogenously from within the banking system due to asset/liability mismatches and liquidity traps. Commencing in banks, they would spread to and engulf other sectors. Indeed, these findings are original, far-sighted and worthy of a Nobel.

While the awards to Diamond and Dybvig have been received well, the prize to Ben Bernanke has met with consternation and loud protests. This is perhaps based on the misapprehension that the award is for his role as the Fed Chair.

This is not so. As records show, the Committee went only into the academic work of the Eighties on the Great Depression. Even so, did Bernanke bring to bear his research background when he was functioning as the Fed Chair? This has raised questions.

The conferment of the award to Bernanke has reopened, so to say, a debate on his performance as the Fed Chair. Opinion is sharply divided between two camps

Reacting to the award, the New York Post wrote on October 11 that "Ben Bernanke belongs in the Economics Hall of Shame". An opinion piece, (America has paid dearly for Nobel winner Ben Bernanke's many mistakes, Desmond Lachman), borrowing a jibe from Bernard Shaw, castigated him as a "brilliantly wrong" economist. It referred to his stint for long years as a member of the Fed when Alan Greenspan held fort, pointing out how Bernanke did not observe the bubbles bellowing and caution Greenspan about the rising risks in the financial market.

In 2005, at a Jackson Hole Economic Symposium, when he was a professor at Chicago University, Raghuram Rajan expressed concern about asset inflation. He read his paper, Has Financial Development Made the World Riskier? He was attacked as an anti-market Luddite and silenced by seniors, including Bernanke.

Later, in 2013, when the fear of Taper Tantrum was looming large, Rajan raised the issue. He was then the governor of the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) and requested consultation and coordination of monetary policy with other countries, which, like India, were adversely affected. Bernanke rebuffed him and said that the Fed was under no statutory obligation to coordinate with others; its objectives are to maintain price stability and employment in the US. It is this tunnel vision of the Fed that has created mayhem in the currency market now.

The conferment of the award to Bernanke has reopened, so to say, a debate on his performance as the Fed Chair. Opinion is sharply divided between two camps: Those who support him, referring to the timely and aggressive steps taken by him to prevent the depression turning into a severe recession, and others referring to his missteps, especially the Quantitative Easing (QE) policies, especially after 2010.

For emerging markets like India, the problem is more acute. At one level, when dollar floods are in force, capital rushes into stocks and debt due to interest differentials. When the Fed commenced to unwind, it created the dreaded "Taper Tantrum". The Fed does not believe in consulting or cooperating its policies with others. Unwittingly, the Fed's policies have led to a bizarre situation. The dollar is hardening, with more and more easy money getting back home to the US (safe haven), lured by higher rates. It is a weird mixture of currency turbulence and inflation.

Many critics, including this columnist, relate this situation to the policies of Bernanke and the US Treasury. The policymakers in the US may be working on the assumption that the dollar is the only leverage they have to control other countries.

One may well ask: Should Bernanke be denied the Nobel? The answer is a categorical "No". It was for his research work which is still valuable. His later stint as the Fed Chair is another matter.

Yimkhung. The six districts were once parts of the Tuensang Frontier Division of the North Eastern Frontier Agency (NEFA) (today's Arunachal Pradesh) but in 1957, it merged with the then Naga Hills of Assam as per an agreement between a pro-establishment Naga Peoples' Convention (NPC) and the Government of India to constitute the state of Nagaland in 1963. This was meant to neutralise the insurgents, but this did not happen.

The eastern Nagas consider themselves more backward than the older tribes of Nagaland. To address this problem, in the 1970s, a local layer was added to the reservation for Scheduled Tribes, and Nagaland reclassified its tribes into 'Forward' and 'Backward', setting aside 25% government jobs and education seats for the 'Backward Tribes'. Discontent remained and Nagaland later increased this quota to 37%.

When even this was not enough to pacify ENPO, in 2003, Nagaland tried to address this tension by establishing the Department for Underdeveloped Areas (DUDA). The ENPO rejected this too. Problems resulting from the split in the Naga armed organisations are further complicated by this division. In this multi-layered fissure, the ENPO is by and large on the side of NNPG, again leaving the NSCN(IM) isolated.

There are civil society organisations in Nagaland working for reconciliation. The most notable among these is the Forum for Naga Reconciliation (FNR), an initiative headed by Rev. Dr Wati Aier, a Naga theologian. As the convener of FNR, Dr Aier has been organising and moderating several meetings between the NNPG and NSCN(IM) leaders to get them to agree to be on one platform. What ultimately comes out of this noble initiative remains uncertain but there is little optimism amongst ordinary Nagas regarding any substantial shifts in the stances of the rival groups.

It also remains to be seen what decision the Government of India takes on the matter of a peace deal before the election, and whether it would go ahead and have separate settlements for Nagas of Nagaland and Nagas of Manipur. There are also indications that NSCN(IM) has been reaching out to several Meitei insurgents in Manipur to sink their past differences and form a common front.

All these considered, it would be hasty for anybody to claim that peace has returned to Manipur or Nagaland. The calm surface can be deceptive, for as the saying goes, still waters run deep.

I appreciate the editorial, Saving Mother Earth from the world's population explosion (Nov 16). Hold 'Mother of Democracy' talks, univs told

UGC chairman M Jagadesh Kumar has written to governors in order to help youth understand democratic values

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

THE University Grants Commission (UGC) has urged all the universities in the country to organise a lecture on the theme, 'India: Mother of Democracy', on November 26 on the occasion of Constitution Day. UGC chairman M Jagadesh Kumar has written to the governors of all states in this regard.

According to Kumar, the lecture series will help the young generation understand the values and outcomes of a democratic system of governance to make India's democracy more modern and empowered.

"India is a diverse nation with different religions, languages, cultures, etc. But a common denominator connects all Indians: the democratic value," Kumar's letter to Tamil Nadu

Governor Ravindra Narayan Ravi, accessed by this newspaper, said.

The Indian democracy, which is marching ahead in its 75th year on the strengths of inclusiveness and diversity, is not only the world's largest democracy but also the mother of democracy, the letter stated.

"I request you to kindly encourage all universities in the state to organise lectures on November 26 on the above-given theme and celebrate Indian Democracy," Kumar said.

The democratic system in India has evolved over the ages, the letter said, adding that there is ample evidence, right from the Vedic period, that emphasises following of the democratic traditions in India.

"Recent archaeological excavation at Rakhigarhi and Sanauli reveals that the roots of people's self-governance date back to at least 5000 BCE," Kumar said. "There is more evidence in the form of archaeological, literary, numismatic, epigraphical, bhakti, and so on, to emphasise the Loktantrik traditions of Bharat."

The UGC, in collaboration with the Indian Council of Historical Research is also planning to organise special lec-

Live-stream PM's Kashi Tamil Sangamam event: UGC

The UGC has asked all universities, colleges and other educational institutions to make arrangements for live telecast/ streaming of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's programme at the Kashi Tamil Sangamam on November 19. The month-long Sangamam is being organised by the central government in Varanasi from November 16. UGC secretary Rajnish Jain on Wednesday said in a notice to the institutions that the event aims to rediscover and strengthen the centuries-old link between the two ancient knowledge centres of the country - Tamil Nadu and Kashi. Around 2,500 people will visit Varanasi from Tamil Nadu for the academic and cultural exchange event, which will comprise exhibition of art, crafts, handloom and cuisine of Tamil Nadu.

tures in 90 universities, including 45 central universities and 45 deemed-to-be universities across the country, until November 30.

The lectures will also be a part of a book on Bharat: Loktantra Ki Janani, a compilation of 30 chapters contributed by 30 well-known authors on various themes related to the subject, ranging from ancient Indian history to different regions and religions of the country.

According to an ICHR, "India, to the great surprise of the world with all its multiple pluralities, is today the world's largest successful working democracy, because Indian people, infused with the spirit of equality, have had since the very Vedic times a Loktantrik-parampara."

RTI reply: Only 1 doctor found guilty of medical negligence in last 3 yrs

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

ACTION against only one doctor, who was found guilty of medical negligence by the Ethics and Medical Registration Board, was upheld by the National Medical Commission (NMC) in the last three years, even as it continued to overlook similar claims of patients' families despite a Supreme Court ruling.

As per a Right to Information query filed by Kannur-based ophthalmologist Dr K V Babu, four doctors appealed against EMRB's decision holding them guilty of medical negligence. The NMC upheld only one case, rejecting the others.

As per the NMC Act 2019, medical professionals can appeal against decisions of State Medical Councils (SMC) under Section 30(3) if they are held guilty of medical negligence. If the EMRB, which regulates professional conduct in the country, finds their act punishable, medical practitioners can make a second appeal under 30(4) of the NMC Act.

In his query, Babu had asked how many second appeals were filed by registered medical practitioners (RMP) with the NMC from September 25, 2019 to September 30, 2022. In its reply, NMC said, "... till date 4-second appeals have been received in NMC against the decision of EMRB and all four have been disposed of, wherein the decision of EMRB was upheld in one case and remaining three were rejected for being inconsistent with provisions of NMC, Act, 2019."

However, NMC did not give a reply to his query about how many appeals of non-RMPs were rejected by EMRB during the same period.

One out of 4 appeals upheld

As per an RTI query filed by Kannur-based ophthalmologist Dr K V Babu, four doctors appealed against EMRB's decision holding them guilty of medical negligence. The NMC upheld only one case

"They chose not to reply to my question on how many patients' families have appealed to them about medical negligence," he said. However, as per the RTI response to Babu in April 2022, 25 patients' appeals were rejected by EMRB from September 2019 to March 2022.

Patients can appeal against a doctor under 8.8 of Medical Council of India ethics regulations and 61(2) of NMC Act 2019. The clause was added to MCI regulation after the SC said in 2003 that patients have the right to appeal against medical negligence.

Babu had earlier urged the Union health ministry to probe into the violation of MCI regulations and NMC Act. He said that both stipulate that any person aggrieved by the decision of the SMC on any complaint against a delinquent physician shall have the right to file an appeal to the MCI within 60 days from the date of receipt of the order passed by the said medical council.

Railway bonanza: Over 80K employees to get salary increase, grade revision

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

THE ministry of railways on Wednesday accepted a long-standing demand of thousands of employees for hike in their salaries. The ministry has notified the provision for upgradation in pay and grades of over 80,000 supervisory-cadre employees working in 68 divisions under 17 zones of Indian Railways, after obtaining clearance from the Prime Minister's Office and the finance ministry.

After this revision, the employees will get an average increase of ₹2,500 to ₹4,000 in their salaries.

Announcing the decision, Union Railways Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said, "With the implementation of this new scope for pay-upgradation along with grades, all these em-

It will be implemented in the next few months across the

The pay upgradation will act as a great morale booster for the employees, who are making all efforts to make the organisation one of the best and fastest transporters in the world, Vaishnaw told this newspaper.

Hailing it as the first such system being implemented across the railways, the minister added that the decision is the most 'finance-neutral' one ever taken in the organisation for its employees who work as its backbone.

According to an official source, more than 80,000 supervisory-cadre employees are working for maintenance of routes along 67,956 km, running 13,169 passengers and 8,479 freight trains daily, covering 7,325 stations in various working grades in the country.

Modi, Sunak meet, FTA likely to be put on fast-track

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi's interaction with his British counterpart Rishi Sunak on the sidelines of the G20 Summit in Bali could possibly fast-track the much-awaited India-UK Free Trade Agreement (FTA), sources said.

"The two leaders looked forward to the agreement of a UK-India free trade deal, which has the potential to unlock investment and increase jobs in both our countries, as well as expanding our deep cultural links," according to a statement released by Rishi Sunak's office.

The earlier deadline for the FTA was Diwali but it got stuck due to political changes in Britain. Sources point out that the deal is likely to be finalised by March next year.

Sunak conveyed his gratitude to PM Modi for the overwhelming response of the Indian people to his appointment as prime minister.

"The leaders discussed the range of areas where the UK and India are working closely and have the opportunity to further develop our links, including defence and security," the statement added.

"It was great to meet Sunak. India attaches great importance to robust ties with Britain. We discussed ways to increase commercial linkages, raise the scope of security co-operation in the context of India's defence reforms and make people-to-people ties even stronger," said Modi.

Meanwhile, Sunak tweeted a photo with Modi with a caption 'united by friendship'. Officials working on the India-UK FTA say that about 15 of the 26 chapters that were up for discussion have been sealed.

"Reducing taxes on whiskey is among the negotiations that the UK is trying for. If it succeeds in getting a tariff reduction on whiskey from India, it would not just be good for Scotland but could also encourage other countries to reduce tariffs," said a source. UK is also seeking a tariff reduction on automobiles.

India is seeking 'ease of business' and temporary visa norms for skilled professionals. The FTA is expected to increase the bilateral trade to $100 billion by 2030.

'Juvenile' accused in Kathua case is an adult: SC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

EXPRESSING concern over the rising instances of crimes involving juvenile accused, the Supreme Court on Wednesday ruled that one of the key accused in the gangrape and murder of an eight-year-old nomadic girl in Kathua in Jammu and Kashmir in 2018, Shubam Sangra, will be tried as an adult.

The SC gave credence to the medical board's report which estimated the age of Sangra above 19 years at the time of commission of the crime and set aside the order passed by the Kathua chief judicial magistrate and the high court. It also chastised the CJM and the HC over their "casual and cavalier" approach while deciding the accused was a juvenile.

A bench of judges Ajay Rastogi and J B Pardiwala said though there was a clear case in favour of the accused person's juvenility on the basis of his birth certificate and school records, he cannot take shelter under such documents when a heinous crime has been committed.

The bench said while the goal of reformation is ideal, the leniency with which the juveniles are dealt with in the name of reformation may be making them more emboldened in indulging in such heinous crimes.

"The manner in which brutal and heinous crimes have been committed over a period of time by the juveniles and still continue to be committed, makes us wonder whether the Act, 2015 (Juvenile law) has subserved its objective," the top court said.

TDP schemes: Andhra questions stay on SIT

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Andhra Pradesh government on Wednesday questioned before a Supreme Court bench as to how the high court could stay an SIT appointed by the YSR government in a blanket manner. The Special Investigation Team was set up by the state government to probe alleged irregularities in projects started by the previous TDP government from 2014 to 2019, including land acquisition in Amaravati.

Senior Advocate AMSinghvi argued that the Executive was vested with powers to inquire into facts and such powers were separate and stood outside the distinct power to create a commission under the Commission of Inquiry Act.

The submissions were made before the bench of Justices MR Shah and MM Sundresh in a plea that had challenged Andhra Pradesh HC's September 16 ruling of staying the constitution of a cabinet sub-committee to review various policy decisions, programmes, etc., undertaken by the previous TDP government.

The HC stayed the government orders which had constituted the sub-committee and SIT prima facie finding that it was politically motivated and that the current government

Pension benefit to women IAF officers

A bench of CJI DY Chandrachud, and Justices Hima Kohli and JB Pardiwala has allowed grant of one-time pensionary benefits to some Indian Air Force women SSC officers who joined IAF between 1993 and 1998 and retired from service before Delhi HC's judgment directing grant of Permanent Commission to Women SSC officers.

did not have the power to review all policies propounded by the previous government.

By a separate order delivered on September 16, the HC had also refused to implead the Union of India and the ED as respondents even though the state had wished to involve them in the investigation of the matter.

Senior Advocate AM Singhvi also contended that HC had completely misguidedly itself by drawing an equivalence between the court's power of judicial review and the Executive's power to investigate. He further asserted that a successor government may investigate allegations and charges against the previous government and the existence of political rivalry does not vitiate any inquiries conducted by the successor government.

"The issuance of the impugned GOs and review of the erstwhile government's policies was necessitated by widespread allegations of corruption in the media and elsewhere. The investigation was in the interest of the state," he further added. The senior counsel contended that the GOs were neither unreasonable nor arbitrary.

Govt: DeMo done after talking to RBI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

DEFENDING its move of banning ₹500 and ₹1,000 notes in 2016, the Union government has told the Supreme Court that the demonetisation policy was a "well considered decision" which was taken after advance preparations and extensive consultation with the RBI.

"The then finance minister had stated in Parliament, in response to the debate on the Specified Bank Notes (Cessation of Liabilities) Bill, 2017, that government consultation with the RBI began in February 2016," the government said in its affidavit. It added that changes were made to the specifications of the new banknotes introduced for the supply of currency into the economy.

The government's submission has been filed in the backdrop of a five-judge bench expressing its anguish to accede to the Centre's request of adjourning the pleas challenging the policy because of government's failure to file a detailed response on November 9.

WHO advises skin-to-skin contact between moms and preterm babies

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE World Health Organization has launched new guidelines to improve survival and health outcomes for babies born early (before 37 weeks of pregnancy) or small (under 2.5kg at birth).

The guidelines advise that skin-to-skin contact with a caregiver - known as kangaroo mother care - should start immediately after birth, without any initial period in an incubator. This marks a change from earlier guidance and common clinical practice, reflecting the health benefits of ensuring that caregivers and their preterm babies stay close, without being separated after birth.

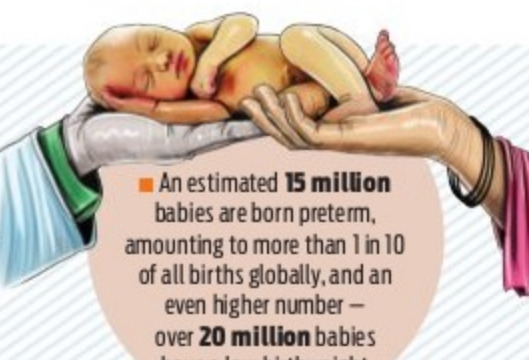

According to Dr. Madhuri Patel, secretary general, Federation of Obstetric and Gynaecological Societies of India, which has 262 member societies and over 37,000 individual members, India is already following this practice.

"Only in the case, where there is a health problem with the child, we avoid skin to skin contact. But in the rest of the cases, we follow this practice," Patel told this daily. "We have always emphasised on exclu-

It recommends that skin-to-skin contact with a caregiver should start immediately after birth, without any initial period in an incubator. India is already practising this, FOGSI secretary Dr. Madhuri Patel said

An estimated 15 million babies are born preterm, amounting to more than 1 in 10 of all births globally, and an even higher number - over 20 million babies have a low birthweight

Most preterm babies can be saved through feasible, cost-effective measures, including quality care before, during and after childbirth

Breastfeeding is strongly recommended, until six months

Donor human milk or nutrient-enriched preterm formula to be given if mother's milk is not available

The guidelines also recommend ensuring emotional, financial and workplace support for families of very small and preterm babies.

The guidelines were released ahead of World Prematurity Day, which is marked every year on November 17.

"Preterm babies can survive, thrive, and change the world - but each baby must be given that chance," WHO director-general Dr Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus said.

HC warns Morbi civic body: 'You're taking it casually'

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

THE Gujarat High Court on Wednesday warned the Morbi Municipal Corporation (MMC) for failing to file its response to a suo motu public interest litigation case taken up by the High Court with regard to Morbi bridge collapse that killed more than 135 people on October 30.

A bench of Chief Justice Arvind Kumar and justice Ashutosh J Shastri asked the MMC to either file its response by evening on Wednesday or pay hefty costs.

The court said, "Now you are taking the matter casually. So, either file your reply by this evening or pay a fine of ₹1 lakh." The civic body's lawyer sought some time to file its response in the petition. He said that the civic body is being looked after by the deputy collector, Morbi.

"He is also on election duty. The notice should have been sent to the Deputy Collector, but it was served to the civic body instead on November 9. Thus, there was delay in appearing before this court," the lawyer explained.

Morbi Municipality also accepted that on the day the bridge collapsed, there was no permission or sanction to use the bridge. The civic body, however, filed a 10-pages reply to the court by the evening.

The court had taken note of the tragedy on its own and sought replies from at least six departments. The bench had then directed the State, its Chief Secretary, the Morbi Municipal Corporation, the Urban Development Department (UDD), the State Home Department and the State Human Rights Commission to be impleaded as parties in the matter and sought their responses.

The bench had on Tuesday noted that the MMC was 'playing smart' by not appearing before it despite a notice being issued.

Home minister tries to win over rebels as resentment over ticket distribution persists

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

RATTLED by protests by those denied the party ticket across Gujarat for the polls due on Dec 1 and 5, the BJP is on the 'peace offensive' prescribed by Home Minister Amit Shah.

The key party strategist would like the state leadership to treat such dissenters with "love and compassion" and has embarked on one-on-one discussions with rebels-in-the-making. The plan seems to be working. Satish Nishaliya, a disgruntled party leader from Vadodara district's Karajan Assembly segment, has decided not to contest as an Independent.

Tensions were palpable at Kamalam, the party headquarters in Gandhinagar after scores of BJP workers protested against seat allotments. As a result, the party took a day longer to announce three more candidates. With this, the BJP has announced 181 candidates for a total of 182 seats.

Shah's arrival in Gujarat has had a calming effect on the party's state unit. He has been engaging all state party leaders since Sunday and took yet another day to draw up a plan to negotiate with the discontented lot. Shah plans to stand with all party leaders in a bid to give out a strong message that the party is united. His Monday's impromptu visit to Ahmedabad's Narayan Pura constituency was a part of his soft approach to pacify party workers.

On Tuesday Shah accompanied the party candidate from Ahmedabad district's Sanand constituency to the poll office where Kanubhai Patel filed his papers. On Wednesday, Shah and CM Bhupendra Patel held a road show in Ahmedabad's Ghatloda before Patel filed his nomination.

Addressing a public gathering, Shah exuded confidence in the BJP forming the government yet again. "People of Gujarat are set to script history in Indian democracy by electing the highest numbers of BJP MLAs. Bhupendra Patel will continue as the Chief Minister," he said.

A party leader said despite Shah's direct meetings with local leaders, the fire of resentment in the party was not yet over. "Protests against official candidates continue in some districts like Viramgam, Nandod, Himmatnagar, Waghodia, Padra, Karajan, Surat, Vijapur, Mehsana. Even today, Bayad's dropped MLA announced that would contest as an Independent," said a BJP source.

Heir apparent: Maha Cong leaders use yatra to 'groom' their children

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Maharashtra leg of the Congress' Bharat Jodo Yatra sheds some light on state leaders' uncanny ambition to prepare their loved ones for a career in politics.

Photos and videos of Congress leaders' children clicking themselves with Rahul Gandhi out on the yatra or having a chat with him are being shared on social media. These visuals could stand them in good stead in the local body polls and 2024 assembly elections, party sources said.

The yatra started in Nanded district's Deglur town where former chief minister Ashok Chavan prodded his daughter Shreejaya to walk with Rahul in her home district. Chavan shared the visuals on social media. Sources said Chavan is readying the ground for Shreejaya to contest the 2024 assembly elections in his place while preferring to contest the Lok Sabha polls. In 2019, Chavan lost the general election by over 50,000 votes against the BJP candidate. He would like to contest again to settle scores with incumbent BJP Lok Sabha MP Prataprao Chikhlikar.

revenue minister Balasaheb Thorat. He wants his daughter Jayashree, a doctor by profession, to contest the local body elections and subsequently state assembly elections in his place in Sangamner constituency in Ahmednagar district.

Ditto for Vijay Wadettiwar, former Congress minister. He is busy promoting his daughter for future politics. Along the yatra route, huge billboards with photos of his daughter Shivani have come up at various places in Washim and Akola districts. She also walked along with Rahul during the yatra. Her photos with Rahul Gandhi have been widely shared on social media.

Former Union home minister Sushil Kumar Shinde's daughter Praniti Shinde, an MLA, also walked with the Gandhi scion. Shinde could be preparing her daughter for a larger role.

BOTH Poorvi and Bipul are also from Khound's hometown. Bipul had brought Poorvi to Bengaluru after getting married, but considering the high cost of living, sent her back to Assam. Meanwhile, realising he had another chance with Poorvi, Khound decided to desert his wife and elope with Poorvi. Both of them came to Bengaluru.

Incidentally, Bipul had gotten wind of his wife's affair with Khound. He also learnt that both of them were to return to Bengaluru. He also came to know that they were arriving by train and were to deboard at KR Puram Station on November 6. He lay in wait, intercepted them, and brought them to his residence at Yemalur near Marathahalli. Khound was forced to stay at Bipul's house as he did not know Bengaluru, nor did he know anybody in the city.

But, on November 8, he and Bipul got into a major fight over his affair with Poorvi. Fearing that Bipul would complain to the police, resulting in an arrest, Khound escaped from the house, chased by Bipul. At about 12.50 am on November 9, Khound jumped the wall near the trolley gate of HAL Airport, and got arrested — a fear that forced him to run from Bipul's place in the first place.

THE Calcutta High Court on Wednesday expressed dissatisfaction over progress made by the CBI in the alleged irregularities in recruitment through School Service Commission after the central agency informed the court that it has so far questioned 16 out of 542 accused, who allegedly got jobs in alleged illegal manner.

Unhappy with CBI's investigation, Justice Abhijit Ganguly reconstituted the central agency's special investigation team (SIT) by removing deputy superintendent K. C. Rishinam and inspector Imran Ashiq from the SIT and appointed Akhilesh Singh, DIG, CBI as the head of the SIT. The justice said the central agency was handed over the probe on May 18 and not even 5 per cent of the candidates have been interrogated till date. He directed the CBI to complete the interrogation within three weeks.

The high court had earlier asked the candidates, suspected to have gained employment in illegal manner to resign, but none came forward. The ruling Trinamool Congress is facing embarrassment over the issue of recruitment scam as the former minister in Chief Min-

U'khand okays stricter anti-conversion law

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE Uttarakhand government made the decision on Wednesday to strengthen the anti-conversion law by declaring forced conversion as a cognisable offence with provision for a punishment of 10 years imprisonment.

The shifting of the Uttarakhand High Court from Nainital to Haldwani received approval from the government as well.

According to official sources, the decisions were made during a meeting of the state cabinet presided over by the chief minister, Pushkar Singh Dhami.

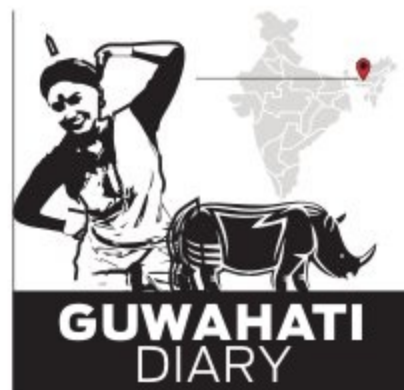

According to them, a bill introducing the changes to the anti-conversion law would soon be presented to the state assembly.

The Uttarakhand Freedom Of Religion Act, 2018, stipulates a prison term of up to five years for anyone convicted of "forced or fraudulent" conversion. The proposal to shift the high court to a new location is being opposed by a section of lawyers of the high court who feel it will be a loss for the hill areas of the state and goes against the principles that led to the creation of Uttarakhand.

The proposal to shift the high court in Haldwani has evoked mixed reactions among the section of advocates. Locals want the High court to remain in Nainital, while a large number of advocates have welcomed the government's decision.

Reacting to the cabinet decision, Nainital High Court Bar Association president Prabhakar Joshi told The New Indian Express, "I had spoken to Chief Justice Vipin Sanghi. He said he has given his consent to the reply sought by the state government. This decision has been taken keeping the interest of the litigants paramount.

Gun-toting adivasi men demand ST status

Even as militancy-related incidents dropped drastically in Assam after the government signed various peace accords with myriad militant groups, a video, showing some youth in army fatigues wielding guns, surfaced on social media. They claimed they are members of Adivasi People's Liberation Army, a hitherto unknown insurgent group. One of them in the video demanded that the Assam and Central governments give ST status and land rights to the tea workers' adivasi community in the state. "Our 125 soldiers and officers want to join the mainstream. We want the government to take necessary steps so we can join the mainstream," he said.

Climate change: Cong seeks concrete steps

The Congress has asked the Assam government to take some concrete measures on climate change. Leader of Opposition Debabrata Saikia claimed the state is losing 15-sq km of forests every year due to encroachment and other reasons. "The Centre and Assam government should have been more proactive in this regard. When the government initiates a developmental project, it should transplant the trees elsewhere, instead of lopping them off. Secondly, we want the government not to rehabilitate the landless in and around forests," Saikia said. Assam has 15 of India's 25 districts most vulnerable to climate change.

21% increase in IIT pre-placement offers

The Indian Institute of Technology, Guwahati registered a 21 per cent increase in placement offers during 2022-23. The institute has already received 218 pre-placement offers (PPOs) so far this academic year, against 179 offers in 2021-22. The PPOs will continue to be made till the commencement of Phase I of campus placements on December 1. "A major factor behind this performance is the strong internship programme and pre-placement talks arranged by the Centre for Career Development of the IIT. The increase in PPOs is the result of excellent guidance by the mentors and performance of students during these sessions," the institute said.

5 Kashmir journalists quit over militant threat

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

AFTER the militant threats, five journalists working for local Srinagar-based newspapers have resigned.

Five media persons, including four staffers of a newspaper who include an Editor and two reporters, posted their resignations on social media platforms — Facebook and Twitter.

The scribes announced their resignations on social media to avoid any trouble as militants have threatened to target anyone working for three media houses (two newspapers and a TV channel) in Srinagar.

The militant threat was posted on blacklisted blog kashmirfight.com.

Police says militant outfit The Resistance Front (TRF), an offshoot of the Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT) is behind these threats.

The militants in a series of lists have accused over a dozen journalists of being informants of security forces. It has also warned of targeting the employees of three Srinagar-based media houses.

"We want to make it crystal clear that anyone related to the three media houses in the Valley will not be spared. The employees and journalists working with these media houses will be targeted as they are spreading the fake narrative," warned the militant post.

After the militant threats, police swung into action registered cases against Lashkar and TRF. "Case have been registered against handlers, active terrorists & OGWs of terror outfit LeT & its offshoot TRF for online publication & dissemination of a direct threat letter to journalists and reporters based in Kashmir," a police official said.

He said FIR No. 82/2022 U/S 13 UAPA, 505, 153B, 124A & 506 IPC have been registered in Police Station Shergari in Srinagar.

To get son back from Pak jail, dad wants to meet Rahul in MP

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

A 60-year-old Bheel tribe man Laxman Pindare is craving to meet former Congress national president Rahul Gandhi during the ongoing Bharat Jodo Yatra — for the cause of his elder and mentally challenged son Raju Laxman, who was reportedly arrested in Pakistan for allegedly spying on a nuclear enrichment facility in July 2019.

The yatra, which is currently travelling through Maharashtra, is slated to enter Madhya Pradesh on November 20. After entering MP through Burhanpur, the yatra will travel through adjoining Khandwa and Khargone district where Laxman wants to meet Rahul Gandhi to raise the cause for his son's release from Pakistani jail and necessary support to the family, which is reeling under financial crunch. Laxman resides with his family, including his wife, physically-challenged younger son, daughter-in-law and grandson in Indavari village of Khandwa district.

"My elder son Raju Laxman, who is aged around 35 years, is lodged in some Pakistani jail, while younger son Dilip is physically-challenged and unable to earn anything for his wife and 5-year-old son, forcing me and my wife Basanta Bai to work as daily wage labourers to save the family from starvation. Since July 2019, when we came to know that our missing son Raju was arrested by police in Pakistan, we've been running from pillar to post for his release and support to our family, but have failed to get anything positive," the elderly couple told this newspaper on Wednesday.

"We've heard that Rahul Gandhi's yatra will be travelling through Khandwa district. We want to meet him to appeal him to raise our family and jailed son's cause nationally and internationally," the Bheel tribe couple appealed. Back in July 2019, the Pakistan police had claimed to have arrested an Indian spy identified as Rajo aka Raju Laxman, who was found spying on a nuclear enrichment facility in Rakhi Gaj area of Dera Ghazi Khan district. Pakistan police had said that Laxman was arrested on July 29 while entering the DG Khan area from Balochistan.

RUSSIA ULTIMATELY TO BLAME FOR POLAND BLAST: NATO

Explosion likely caused by a Ukrainian air defence missile, says the alliance's chief

PRZEWODOW

KYIV on Wednesday requested access to the site of a deadly blast in a Polish village after Western officials said the explosion there was likely caused by Ukrainian air defences.

"Ukraine requests immediate access to the site of the explosion," the secretary of Ukraine's national security and defence council, Oleksiy Danilov, said on Twitter.

He added that Kyiv was ready to hand over "evidence" of its allegations that Russia was responsible.

The Kremlin said earlier on Wednesday Russia had "nothing to do with the missile blast."

Ukraine has blamed Moscow but Western leaders said the missile was probably launched by Ukrainian air defence against a Russian barrage on Tuesday.

Danilov said he was "expecting information from our partners" leading to the conclusion that "it was a Ukrainian air defence missile."

He asked for representatives of the Ukrainian border service and the defence ministry to be able to access the site and participate in a "joint examination of the incident."

NATO member Poland and the head of the military alliance both said on Wednesday a missile strike did not appear to be an intentional attack, and that air defences in the neighbourhooding Ukraine likely launched the Soviet-era projectile against a Russian bombardment that savaged its power grid.

"Ukraine's defence was launching their missiles in various directions and it is highly probable that one of these missiles unfortunately fell on Polish territory," said Polish President Andrzej Duda.

"There is nothing, absolutely nothing, to suggest that it was an intentional attack on Poland."

NATO Secretary-General Jens Stoltenberg, at a meeting of the 30-nation military alliance in Brussels, echoed the preliminary Polish findings, saying: "We have no indication that this was the result of a deliberate attack."

If Russia had deliberately targeted Poland, that could have risked drawing NATO into the conflict. Still, Stoltenberg and others laid overall but not specific blame on Russian President Vladimir Putin's war. "This is not Ukraine's fault. Russia bears ultimate responsibility," Stoltenberg said.

Stoltenberg said NATO had ramped up its defences along its eastern flank in response to the war in Ukraine.

Xi scolds Trudeau in public over leaked report of their meet, latter gives it back

BALI

CHINESE President Xi Jinping and Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau on Wednesday exchanged barbs on the sidelines of the Group of Twenty (G20) summit in Bali over leaked reports of their meeting. In perhaps a very rare open remark captured on television camera, an agitated Xi was seen objecting to Trudeau saying whatever they discussed in their earlier meeting was leaked to the media.

"Everything we discuss has been leaked to the paper, that's not appropriate," Xi told Trudeau through a translator on the sidelines of the closing session of the G20 meeting. "That is not how the way the conversation was conducted," he said, adding "if there is sincerity, we will have a good conversation. Otherwise, the result is hard to say."

Xi spoke in Chinese which his official interpreter conveyed in English to Trudeau. But 50-year-old Trudeau, who looked impatient, interrupted the translator, saying: "We believe in free and open and frank dialogue and that is what we will continue to have. We will continue to look to work constructively together but there will be things we will disagree on." For which, Xi said, "let us create the conditions first", after which the two shook hands and went separate ways.

Asked about his exchange with Xi, Trudeau said, "not every conversation is going to be easy but it's extremely important we stand up for the things that are important to Canadians."

Xi and Trudeau reportedly met briefly on the sidelines of the G20 meeting during which they discussed the tense state of affairs between the two countries. For its part, China has not acknowledged Xi's meeting with Trudeau.

Asked to confirm reports of their meeting, Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesperson Mao Ning told the media briefing here that "I have nothing to share at the moment". AFP

Amazon lay-offs likely less severe in India

Impact could be grave in the US, which is facing economic slowdown; retail, HR, tech roles to get impacted

CUTTING THE FLAB

Amazon plans 11,000 job cuts globally
Ecomm giant has over 15.5 lakh employees globally

Nearly 100,000

are employed with Amazon in India
Amazon has four major businesses in India - marketplace, data and payments, logistics and internet

Amazon seller services, its biggest business in India, reported ₹3,650 crore loss in FY22

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

WITH Amazon planning to cut 11,000 jobs globally, the impact of the lay-off is not likely to be as severe in India.

Sources told TNIE that some small businesses of Amazon in India are being evaluated and that some teams, which may have become redundant, will get 'internal placements'.

The impact in India will be very small, a source told TNIE.

"I don't think we are in a bad place, to be honest. What is likely to happen is cutting off some flab here and there, that's it. Something that nobody would have noticed in the usual course," said the source quoted above. Amazon has around 100,000 employees in India.

The impact of the lay-offs is likely to be most severe in the US, which is also facing economic slowdown. It is said that the job cut would impact retail division, HR and also employees in technology roles. Amazon 15.44 lakh employees globally (excluding contractors and temporary personnel), which means the it would be laying off less than 1% of its workforce.

Amazon India has several businesses - marketplace, data and payments, logistics and internet.

Its largest business - Amazon Seller Services, which houses the marketplace business - reported a 32.5% revenue growth to ₹21,700 crore and posted a loss of ₹3,649 crore, a decline of 23%. Employee cost of Amazon Seller Services grew by 20.5% to ₹2,193 crore in FY22 from ₹1,820 crore in FY21. Amazon Pay India, which runs an online payment system in India, reported a 16% growth in revenue to ₹2,052 crore in FY22. The company reported a net loss of ₹1,741 crore during the year.

Amazon Transportation Services, which runs a shipping services firm, reported a 13% increase in its revenue in FY22 to ₹4,581 crore even as its losses increased from ₹69 crore to ₹95 crore.

Amazon Data Services reported ₹3,567 crore revenues and an annual profit of ₹326.8 crore. Its data service is the only business that is in profit.

PAYTM SHARE PRICES SINCE LISTING

SoftBank to sell Paytm shares worth $200 mn as lock-in period ends

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

ONE of Paytm's leading investors, SoftBank, is looking to sell nearly $200 million worth of shares in the firm as the mandatory pre-IPO investors' lock-in period expires.

Masayoshi Son-led SoftBank is offering 29 million shares in One97 Communications, which operated the brand Paytm, via block deal at ₹555 to ₹601.45 apiece - a discount of nearly 8% to the current market price. The share sale, which is expected to be executed tomorrow, will fetch SoftBank ₹1,629 crore or $200 million at the lower end of the price band.

Bank of America is the sole broker for the block deal.

SoftBank's investment in Paytm is said to be in negative as the latter's shares have fallen 70% when compared to its IPO issue price.

The Japanese investment giant, which itself is struggling due to sharp sell-off in technology stocks worldwide, had invested $1.6 billion and held about 17.5% in Paytm as of September 30. The value of 17.5% stake in Paytm is now pegged at $900 million.

Other top investors in Paytm include Warren Buffet's Berkshire Hathaway, Elevation Capital and its largest and very early investor - China's Alibaba Group.

The stake sale comes even as Vijay Shekhar Sharma, the digital payments firm's founder and CEO, in a note to shareholders said they are on path to profitability and free cash flow.

"We are scaling the lending distribution which can bring financial inclusion to hundreds and millions of people in the country. Due to the huge demand for lending in our country, our low penetration and the compounding nature of the lending journey, we are extremely optimistic about the prospects of our lending business," Sharma said.

Shares of Paytm fell after the mandatory pre-IPO investors' lock-in period expired on November 15. Paytm fell over 4% to close the Wednesday session at ₹601 on the BSE. Anchor investors holding shares of the company since its mega ₹18,300-crore IPO are now allowed to off-load their holdings. This unlocks 86% of Paytm's shares that were locked for one year.

THIERRY BOLLORÉ RESIGNS AS CEO OF JAGUAR LAND ROVER

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TATA MOTORS-OWNED Jaguar Land Rover chief executive officer Thierry Bolloré on Wednesday announced his resignation from the luxury car company citing personal reasons. He will leave the company on December 31, 2022.

Adrian Mardell will take over as Interim CEO from today. Adrian has been part of Jaguar Land Rover for 32 years and a member of the Executive Board for three years. The departure of Bolloré comes as Tata Motors continue to report mammoth quarterly losses due to supply side constraints (mainly semiconductor shortage) at JLR, which has taken a heavy toll in its production capability. As of September 30, JLR had an order book of 205,000 units and it expects improvement in volumes in the second half of financial year ending March 2023 and beyond. Tata Motors had last week reported a consolidated net loss of ₹945 crore in September quarter (Q2FY23) as against a net loss of ₹4,442 crore in the year ago quarter (Q2FY22). In the preceding June quarter, Tata Motors had reported a consolidated net loss at ₹5,007 crore. All these losses were attributed to production loss at JLR as domestic passenger vehicle and commercial vehicle business saw an uptick. JLR business accounts for over half of Tata Motors' consolidated revenue. Bolloré said: "JLR's transformation and acceleration towards a sustainable, profitable future as a modern luxury business is underway at great pace."

Banks told to be watchful on spillover effects of slowdown

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

RESERVE BANK OF INDIA Governor Shaktikanta Das has asked banks to remain watchful eye on the emerging global macroeconomic situations and be cautious of the possible spillover effect of a likely global slowdown.

The governor on Wednesday met the heads of public sector and certain private sector banks to discuss various macroeconomic and sector related issues.

With the slowdown looming over the global economy, the RBI governor exhorted the heads of the banks to proactively take mitigating measures so that 'the potential impact on their balance sheets is minimised and financial stability risks are contained'.

The meeting also discussed the lagging growth in deposits compared to credit growth. Bank credit growth has been outpacing the deposit growth over many quarters raising concern of an impending liquidity crunch if banks fail to attract deposits at a faster pace. Year-on-year credit growth accelerated to 14.2% in the June quarter compared to 9-10% growth in deposits. In October, credit off-take surged to 17.9% compared to 9.5% growth in deposits.

The banks have been slow in transmission of repo rate hike to deposit rates as result of which term deposit rates are still languishing below 7% while lending rates have gone above 9%.

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has increased the loan rates by 190 basis points since May this year.

While banks have fully passed on the impact of repo rate hike to borrowers, they have been slow in passing on the benefit to depositors. For example SBI in a recent analyst call said that they have hiked deposit rates by only 80 basis points since May 2022.

Among other matters that were discussed during the meeting include asset quality, investments in IT infrastructure, adoption of new-age technology solutions, functioning of digital banking units, etc.

Home prices rise most in Delhi, Kolkata, Ahmedabad

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AMONG India's top cities, housing prices in Delhi-NCR witnessed the highest annual increase of 14% during the July-September 2022 quarter at an average ₹7,741 per square feet, according to a joint report by CREDAI, Colliers India and Liases Foras.

Delhi-NCR was followed by Kolkata and Ahmedabad where prices increased in double digit. Housing prices appreciated 6% across eight cities during July-September 2022, compared with the same quarter last year on rising rates of key construction materials, the joint report noted.

Since the beginning of 2022, housing prices have been on the rise on the back of increased demand seen and rise in raw material prices.

CREDAI National President Harsh Vardhan Patodia said, "While there has been a rise in housing prices in line with the global inflationary trends, the market can expect the prices to continue to rise owing to robust demand." Colliers India CEO Ramesh Nair said the rise in inflation and hike in input costs have put upward pressure on housing prices pan India. "While residential activities continue to remain strong, recessionary pressures may have an impact on the salaried class who form a notable share in home buying in the top Indian cities," added Nair. Coming to other cities, average housing prices in Kolkata rose 12% YoY to ₹6,594 per square feet in the July-September period 2022.

Gazprom-GAIL deal will be sorted out soon: Hardeep Puri

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

PETROLEUM minister Hardeep Singh Puri on Monday said the government is hopeful that Russia's Gazprom deal with the state-run Gas Authority of India Limited (GAIL) (India) to supply Liquefied Natural Gas (LNG) will be sorted out soon.

The minister while addressing the press at the world LPG day also said, "India can't be pressurised, we will purchase oil from wherever available at reasonable price." "Both the parties are discussing this issue (Gazprom and GAIL deal). I hope it will be resolved soon," said Puri.

Gazprom's former subsidiary Gazprom Marketing and Trading Singapore (GMTS) signed an agreement with GAIL to supply 2.5 million tonnes (MT) of LNG per annum for 20 years starting 2018-19. However, following the Ukraine and Russia war, Gazprom stopped supply. The reason being, Germany seized control of Gazprom Germania in April 2022. Following this, GAIL reported a 46% dip in net profit during the second quarter (July-September 2022). Its net profit stood at ₹1,537.07 crore in Q2FY23 as compared to ₹2,862.95 crore in the same period a year ago. The profit was sequentially down 47.2% from ₹2,915.19 crore reported for the April-June quarter.

IT industry to hire 2 lakh people in near term, says Infosys co-founder

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE IT industry will recruit two lakh people in the near term, said Infosys co-founder Kris Gopalakrishnan on Wednesday.

Speaking at the Bengaluru Tech Summit, he said digitisation accelerated during the pandemic time and that the Indian IT service companies and the global development centres in India demonstrated that they have the resilience to withstand any shock and they came out with flying colours. This increased the trust of global business and multinational corporations in Indian IT services, Gopalakrishnan said.

The IT industry has been facing various challenges including attrition, moonlighting and employees getting back to offices. Speaking about it, he said that there are challenges but the industry will face them and continue to grow.

"I see the industry recruiting at least 2 lakh people in the near term," he said. "The industry will grow secularly because investments in technology and digitisation will continue over the next several years," he said, adding up and downs in the industry will be a short-term phenomenon.

The Infosys co-founder also said that the industry has to address data protection and privacy issues. "It's a very exciting period for the IT industry. I believe that the next 25 years are going to be even better than the last 25," said Axilor Ventures chairman Gopalakrishnan. Earlier, discussing the emerging technologies and funding in deep-tech, experts at a panel discussion on Venture Capital's long-term role in driving dispersed innovation said deep-tech investments have longer gestation periods, and that the country is still in early stages compared to the US and Chinese markets.

CIL targets 50 MT sales via e-auction in second half

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STATE-OWNED Coal India Limited (CIL) is targeting 50 million tonne sales through the e-auction route in the second half of the current financial year, said the company's Chairman Pramod Agrawal on Wednesday.

While speaking at Global Summit 2022, Agrawal said Coal India is investing heavily in the first-mile connectivity and mechanised evacuation. "In the next three-four years, most of the evacuation exercise will be mechanised," said Agrawal.

The miner had sold nearly 30 million tonnes of coal through e-auction in the first six months of the financial year 2022-23.

The company's e-auction sales were at 108 million tonnes in 2021-22. In the second quarter of the current financial year, the company had sold 10.36 million tonnes of coal via e-auction, and the average realisation was ₹6,061 per tonne.

The PSU sold 141 million tonnes of the dry fuel through the supply agreement in the three months that ended on September 30, 2022, with an average realisation of ₹1,413 per tonne.

Agarwal also stressed that the mining sector will be critical for Indian growth. Meanwhile, the company's net profit was up nearly 144% year-on-year to ₹14,878 crore. The company's profit rose due to spike in prices of coal sold through the e-auction route.

'Expand PLI scheme to TV, washing machine, refrigerators'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Consumer Electronics and Appliances Manufacturers Association (CEAMA) has requested the government to widen the scope of product linked incentive (PLI) and phased manufacturing programme (PMP) schemes in the electronic appliances segment to make government's Make in India campaign successful, CEMA President Eric Broganza said.

Currently, the PLI scheme has been approved for only air conditioners (ACs). CEMA has requested to expand it for refrigerators, washing machines, televisions and small appliances.

"The widening of scope of PLI and PMP schemes are enough to make the Centre's 'make in India' campaign successful," Broganza said in an interaction with TNIE. When asked about the performance of PLI scheme, he stated it will take another six months to say anything about the effectiveness of this scheme. He added that so far it has taken very well and the manufacturers are setting up their plants.

Initiatives like the PLI scheme in ACs have supported the growth in manufacturing, and FDI in consumer electronics has nearly doubled from $198 million in 2021 to $481 million till June 22, as per Brogan-

MESSI'S LAST DANCE

It was hard not to be swept by the hysteria following Lionel Messi's first gold at last year's Copa America. It was harder still to not be taken back by the comments of his colleagues. "We did it for Messi," was the gist. They can now win the World Cup for him. No, genuinely. This is a squad that's filled with talent from goalkeeper to the forward line. They last lost a game before the pandemic. That in itself should tell you a thing or two about the quality in this side. There's also a steel in this side, keeper Emi Martinez, defender Lisandro Martinez and midfielder Rodrigo de Paul to name a few, that was lacking in previous iterations. Also, there's no Gonzalo Higuain to waste opportunities.

17

In-form Messi has been involved in 17 goals this term (7 goals, 10 assists), third-highest in Europe.

Cristiano Ronaldo, 37, is set to play in his fifth World Cup. He has 7 goals to his name.

Can Brazil win a sixth World Cup? Will Lionel Messi get his hands on a first? Europe to have a fifth consecutive winner? A look at some of the main on-the-field talking points ahead of Qatar test...

THE BEAUTIFUL GAME

BRAZIL START FAVOURITES

This time, it's not due to tradition but because of the squad they have brought with the Qatar. Their forward line — Neymar, Raphinha, Vini Jr, Antony, Gabriels Jesus and Martinelli, Richarlison, Rodrygo and Pedro — is an embarrassment of riches while their defense and midfield is ably marshalled by some of the leading lights in European football at the moment. What sets their forward line apart from most of the rest is their capacity to work hard and not shy away from defensive duties. At the back, Alisson and Ederson is the choice to make. Coach Tite, who will leave the side following this tournament, would have struggled to assemble such a balanced squad if he was a club manager.

A NEW PORTUGAL GENERATION

Cristiano Ronaldo, in his fifth World Cup, has the chance to add a global title to a glittering cupboard. But will he accept a bit-part role? The Europeans have a vast array of attacking stars, some of them playing in Europe's biggest clubs. The question, though, is do Portugal's top management have the appetite to make Ronaldo sit on the bench, use him as an impact substitute? If he does start, it means Portugal will have to play a certain way because he isn't the player he once was, it could inhibit the fleet-footed attackers behind the No 9. With the likes of Joao Cancelo, Bruno Fernandes, Bernardo Silva, Ruben Neves and Rafa Leao, they are pretty much stacked in all parts of the field.

FRANCE, FIRST REPEAT CHAMPIONS SINCE 1962?

It's one of the hardest events to win in the world. It's so hard no country has managed to successfully defend it since Pele's Brazil in 1962. One team that may well emulate that bunch is France. They are perhaps the only nation that can rival the Selecao's when it comes to marrying quality with quantity. France could field two to three separate sides and would still have legit claims to reach the latter stages. Up front, they have one of the world's best players Kylian Mbappe. Even if they have some injuries in midfield (Ngolo Kante and Paul Pogba for starters), the next generation are more than capable of leading them to glory. The only question marks pertain to if Mbappe could be a divisive figure in a squad that contains some big egos, an age old French problem.

WILL AN ASIAN SIDE EMERGE

South Korea pulled off one of the upsets of the last World Cup when they beat Germany in the group stages. But as a continent, they are still waiting for a breakthrough performance after the same side reached the semifinal in 2002. Among the big confederations, they are the only ones yet to reach a last eight since 2002. At a home World Cup, can they nix this unwanted record? History — and the draw — suggest this wait is set to continue. With the World Cup expanding to 48 nations, it's up to the sides in Asia to show why they deserve more quota places in the sport's blue-riband event.

CANADA'S MIGRANTS SONG

Every World Cup throws up a feel-good story that will be talked about for decades. In 2022, it will be team Canada's composition. A significant chunk of the players in Qatar were born elsewhere, including Alphonso Davies one of the best young players. The Bayern Munich left-back was born in a refugee camp in Ghana after his parents fled the civil war in Liberia. And they aren't here to just make up the numbers. They have a number of exciting players with forward Jonathan David (born in USA) at the top of that list. They made light work of the qualification process and can catch a few of the teams cold on their day.

GERMANY & SPAIN'S YOUNG CHALLENGERS

This is the first time in a decade or so that Germany and Spain, two of the world's best modern sides, have a new core, filled with young players. How will they get on? Incidentally, they play each other in one of the marquee games of the group stages. What's fascinating about these two sides is the way set out, they are so ultra modern that they could be club outfits. They press, they have a highline and both can be very direct. They also have within their ranks two of the best teenagers in the game today — Jamal Musiala (Germany) and Pedri (Spain). There is perhaps a feeling that this tournament is a bit too early but tournament football is a different beast.

SENEGAL, AFRICA'S FINEST

2018 wasn't a good World Cup for African sides, none of them managed to qualify for the knockouts. It could be different this year. African champions Senegal have a good enough draw and some of their best players have big-match nous (think Sadio Mane, Kalidou Koulibaly, and Edouard Mendy). They also have a settled squad, with plenty in the squad having experienced the World Cup in Russia. Their forward line has plenty of pace with Mane and Ismaila Sarr the two main wingers on either side. At the back, Mendy and Koulibaly form a formidable spine with the likes of Abdou Diallo and Idrissa Gueye very capable supporting acts.

BIG QUEST

'Excitement is building...': Stars begin to assemble ed, along with arrival pictures.

Focus on rights

ENGLAND and the Netherlands became the first World Cup heavyweights to touch down in Qatar on Tuesday as FIFA president Gianni Infantino again urged teams to focus on the football. Gareth Southgate's England side, spearheaded by striker Harry Kane, are seeking to become world champions for just the second time after crashing out in the semifinals four years ago in Russia. "Excitement is building among everyone," said Kane. "We're happy to be here and looking forward to being out on the training pitch."

Pleas from football's world governing body FIFA for a switch in focus to the football have fallen on deaf ears in some countries as the countdown to Sunday's kick-off has intensified the focus on Qatar's treatment of migrant workers, women and the LGBTQ community.

FIFA launched its "Football Unites the World" campaign with a video featuring star players including Neymar, Karim Benzema and Edouard Mendy. Infantino said: "Although football is and should be our main focus, the FIFA World Cup is also about values and causes that extend far beyond the pitch and we are delighted that football stars past and present have joined us to promote and highlight these topics, which also unite the whole world."

NSFs nomination notice issued for IOA elections

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

THE notice for election of the Executive Council of the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) was issued by Returning Officer Umesh Sinha on Wednesday. The notification called for nominations from National Sports Federation of India (NSFs) part of the Olympic, Asian and Commonwealth Games programmes.

The election will be held as per the Supreme Court appointed one-member committee of retired judge L Nageswara Rai's amended constitution that was approved by the SC and later ratified by the IOA's general body during its Special General Meeting on November 10. The names — one male and one female — should reach the RO's office by 5pm on November 20. Preparation and display of the electoral college will be on November 21 by 11 am. If NSFs fail to nominate a female member, their vote will be lost. All eyes will be on the electoral college as candidate for the president's post could be from it. As per the IOA constitution, members of the two representatives of the Athletes Commission and eight Sportspersons of Outstanding Merit will form the electoral college and they too are eligible to contest elections. The International Olympic Committee (IOC) Member in India too will have voting right.

Submission of nomination paper will be between November 25 to 27 (5pm) and the display will be on November 29, with the final list out on November 30 (4pm). Withdrawal date is from December 1 to 3, while results would be declared by 3pm after the elections on December 10.

Sinha will prepare the final electoral college. At least there are a couple of NSFs (Table Tennis Federation of India and Judo Federation of India) that are ruled by administrators. The members are not sure who would send the nominations.

Nadal ready 'to die' to return to pinnacle

AFP @Turin

RAFAEL Nadal says he is "going to die" trying to return to the level of tennis that saw him capture a record 22 Grand Slam singles titles after his hopes of a first-ever ATP Finals title and becoming year end world number one were extinguished on Tuesday.

The 36-year-old Spaniard fell 6-3, 6-4 to Canada's Felix Auger-Aliassime in Turin to follow up on a defeat by Taylor Fritz on Sunday. To stay alive in the finals, Nadal needed Fritz to beat Casper Ruud in straight sets on Tuesday.

But when Ruud won a set against Fritz, it meant a sharp exit for Nadal and also that his teenage compatriot, US Open champion Carlos Alcaraz, would finish the year as the top-ranked male player.

Ruud went on to beat Fritz 6-3, 4-6, 7-6 (6) to book himself a semifinal berth.

Nadal needed to win the year-end title for the first time in his trophy-laden career to have a chance of preventing Alcaraz from finishing number one.

"I mean, I don't think I forget how to play tennis, how to be strong enough mentally," said Nadal, who was playing in just his third singles match since the US Open in September.

"I just need to recover all these positive feelings and all this confidence and all this strong mentality that I need to be at the level that I want to be. And I don't know if I am going to reach that level again. But what I don't have any doubt, that I going to die for it."

Dronacharya Maan still cherishes moment with Kalam

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

MORE than 19 years ago, Sujet Maan received the Arjuna Award from then President APJ Abdul Kalam at Rashtrapati Bhavan in New Delhi for winning laurels for the country on the wrestling mat. On November 30, Maan, now coach of noted wrestler Bajrang Punia, will again be felicitated, this time by President Droupadi Murmu at Rashtrapati Bhavan. He will be conferred Dronacharya Award in the regular category.

The occasion and the award will always hold a special place in Maan's heart but the wrestler-turned-coach feels the few seconds he got to spend with the late Abdul Kalam in 2003 are the most cherishable moments of his life. Even today, the photograph clicked during the award function is his WhatsApp display picture (DP) and Facebook profile picture. "The DP I set is not for the award but for the few seconds I got to share with Kalam sir. It was a big occasion for me and I take pride in it. The awards are also important but more than them, it's the opportunity I got to share the stage with Kalam sir I cherish more," Maan told this daily.

Maan represented the country in the 2004 Olympics and won multiple medals in the Asian Championship from 1999 to 2004. He also clinched Commonwealth Championship gold in 2003. The 2006 World Championships was his last as a wrestler. After completing a coaching diploma programme from NIS Patiala, he joined the cadet and junior team as a coach in 2009. In the next two years, he moved to the senior teams and has been working with them since then.

Despite being in the coaching circuit for more than a decade, Maan feels the latest award will mark a new beginning as a coach. "The award will increase my responsibility towards the sport and country. I will have to work with more sincerity now as it's my duty to win more laurels for the sports and the country," Maan said.

Punia won the fourth World Championships medal under the guidance of Maan a couple of months ago. The Tokyo Olympic bronze medalist is one of the biggest hopes for the country in the upcoming Asian Games and 2024 Olympics. However, Maan strongly believes the first goal is the Asiad medal and the 2023 World Championships, which will also serve as a qualifier for the Paris Games.

"The immediate goal is the Asiad and the Worlds next year. It's quite difficult to incorporate changes in a senior wrestler's style. Changing age-old habits and bringing in new ones is not easy but we are doing it. Time also changes as well as opponents. So we have to plan accordingly," the coach said.

Soon after the award ceremony, Maan expects Punia to compete at the World Cup scheduled in the USA on December 10 and 11. He also hopes his ward gets an exposure trip ahead of the new season next year.

BENGALURU'S Kempegowda International Airport is in the news for a variety of reasons. The swanky Terminal 2, dubbed as a 'terminal in the garden', was inaugurated last week. This week, flyers are in for a culinary treat with celebrated chef Abhijit Saha hosting The Caperberry Cookbook pop-up at the luxurious Zero Eight Zero (080) domestic and international lounges. The recently-opened lounges are designed with lovely aesthetics to provide travellers with a world-class dining experience featuring a-la-carte menus, buffets and a dedicated cocktail and whisky bar.

Saha helmed the award-winning Caperberry for over a decade, and while the restaurant is now closed, it exists in the form of Caperberry The Cookbook with a collection of the most delectable recipes Saha has created and cooked for the restaurant over the years. The Caperberry Cookbook pop-up, which is scheduled till November 20, will feature renowned degustation experiences and bring back some of the most loved recipes from the restaurant's cookbook. Among the specialties are avocado roasted beet and feta, grilled chorizo, pan-grilled seabass, caperberry style pollo en pepitoria, paella, duet of spinach and ricotta tortellini and churros moderne. As an added bonus, Saha will host a culinary masterclass during the pop-up with a curated four-course lunch menu made with fresh, artisanal ingredients and chemical-free greens grown in communities close to the airport.

Foodies in Bengaluru are in for an exclusive dining experience with traditional Thai recipes this weekend at the first-ever Nara Thai pop-up at Yauatcha from November 18-20. Launched in 2003 in Bangkok by Narawadee Srikarnchana and Sirisopa Chulasewak, Nara Thai has since expanded to include locations in Singapore, Hong Kong, Vietnam, Myanmar, Sri Lanka, Taiwan, Manila, and Mumbai. The restaurant aims to bring together family and friends for authentic Thai cuisine in a contemporary setting with warm Thai hospitality.

The dining experience coming to Yauatcha Bengaluru's renowned Cantonese doors will feature Nara Thai delicacies in vegetarian and meat options, spicy raw papaya salad, crispy lotus roots, chicken wrapped in pandan leaves, wok tossed crispy pomfret, tom yum soup, thai curry prawn krapow, pad thai noodles, butterfly pea fried rice, and tub tim grobare are just a few of the signature dishes that will be offered from an elaborate menu.

A 'Joi'ous Occasion

Singer-composer Joi Barua speaks to CE about his concert in the city, the Bengaluru crowd and the different approaches in writing songs for a band and a film

TUNIR BISWAS

JOI Barua, famed singer who has composed three songs for the recently released Hindi film Thai Massage, was the final act at the India Inclusion Summit (IIS) recently. He was with his band Joi, performing a set list that was a mix of the songs of the band, some of his tracks from films and covers of some iconic rock songs like Come Together by The Beatles. However, this concert remains unique in his long career because of its audience. IIS is an event that celebrates inclusion of specially-abled persons. Hence naturally, there were many specially-abled folks jamming to his songs at the concert. "I had a great time performing for this crowd. There were people with different interests who speak different languages. I also sang songs in a mix of languages. This is what inclusiveness truly means," he shares.

Barua also created an original song for the IIS, a process that took a few back and forths with the event organisers. "Before I started composing the track, I wanted to properly get an idea of the IIS. I had a few conversations with one of the event organisers and they gave me some reading as well. After acquiring all that information, I started to compose the song from my perspective and what I felt for the inclusion movement. We officially launched the song on the day of the event," he shares.

Joi, his band, blends a variety of genres in their songs. You can find elements of rock, jazz along with more Indian-centric elements as well. Barua feels the city has always had a good crowd for such type of music. "Bengaluru has always had a mixed crowd. People from all over the country reside in this city and that naturally leads to the city developing a diverse musical taste. Among the musicians here, I am close friends with Raghu Dixit. He was one of the earliest in the city to love my music, which gave me a lot of confidence," says the singer of popular songs like Kahaani (Aankhon Ke Pardon Pe) from Udaan and Dil Dhadakne Do from Zindagi Na Milegi Dobara, which he recorded with other popular singers.

There is a clear difference between composing songs for a band and doing it for a film, although creative freedom exists in both. "When you're writing a song for your band, you need to have stories inside you. You need to have an understanding of your demographic, culture, era and history. When you're working in a film, the director and others will bring you their story but if they're good, they won't try to cut your vision," he says.

In Thai Massage, singer-composer Amit Trivedi worked with Barua where the former composed one song and sang one of the songs that the latter had composed. "We've been friends for many years and have been working together since Dev D. So, this feels like a turning of the cycle. I am grateful that he sang one of my songs in Thai Massage. Over the years, he paved the way for a lot of us

Amit Trivedi and I have been friends for many years and have been working together since Dev D. I am grateful that he sang one of my songs in Thai Massage. Over the years, he paved the way for a lot of us

ABOUT PROSTATE CANCER

In spite of medical advances, there are several misconceptions about prostate cancer and better understanding will help to allay fears about this disease

DR GIRIDHAR VENKATESH

PROSTATE cancer (PCa) is the second most common cancer and sixth most common cause of death among men worldwide. Although statistics over the last few decades show a lower incidence among Asian men compared to African, African-American and Caucasian populations, it is certainly on the rise. Significant advances have been made in the treatment of PCa over the last two decades, with development of new drugs (cytotoxic drugs and antiandrogens and immunotherapeutic drugs) for better cancer control. In addition, refinements in surgery and radiotherapy aim at providing higher cancer cure and control rates with reduced complications and long-term morbidity.

In spite of these advances, there are several misconceptions about prostate cancer and better understanding will help to allay fears about this disease. Here are some myths and facts that we need to know.

I do not have prostate cancer as I do not have any symptoms
Majority of PCa are asymptomatic in early stages and become symptomatic only in advanced stages. Totally asymptomatic subjects have presented with complications like bone fractures due to metastatic cancer. So it is prudent to get evaluated based on the risk factors like a positive family history, diabetes, obesity etc.

Screening is not required as prostate cancer is rare in India
PCa screening is done by checking Serum PSA levels regularly, in asymptomatic subjects. Although many urologists question this practice, it has been used quite extensively in Western countries, and may be relevant now due to the rising incidence of PCa in our country. Screening gives us an opportunity to diagnose the disease in the early stages and offer curative treatment with reduced morbidity.

A high PSA is certainly because of prostate cancer
PSA is specific for prostatic diseases, but not for cancer. Increased PSA levels are not only seen in PCa but also in prostatitis, prostatic abscess, Benign Prostatic Enlargement and acute urinary retention.

Risk of cancer is high in larger prostate glands Benign prostatic hyperplasia, which is non-cancerous enlargement of the prostate, is far more common. There is no definite correlation between the size of the gland and the risk of cancer. In fact, most large prostate glands are benign.

Treatment for prostate cancer is complicated and associated with permanent disability and suffering Significant advances in treatment of PCa have been made which have reduced the morbidity of both the disease and the treatment. In addition, improved cancer specific survival has been achieved. Hence at whatever stage the cancer is diagnosed, treatment should be considered.

Prostate cancers that are mild do not need to be treated
In India, majority of PCa (more than 75%) are diagnosed in the advanced stages, after they have spread outside the prostate gland. Advanced cancers can lead to complications like bone fractures, kidney failure, swelling of limbs. Hence it is imperative to treat prostate cancer at diagnosis regardless of the stage. Moreover, the chance of cure increases when the disease is localised to the prostate.

It is futile to treat advanced cancers as most men die soon regardless of treatment
Unlike other cancers, PCa, even in advanced stages, respond well to several modalities of treatment, with significant survival rates. With recent advances in hormonal therapy, the quality of life even in advanced PCa can be good. Hence treatment should be offered even in advanced PCa.

Vitamin B3
up cancer risk?

NEW research from the University of Missouri in the US has found that common vitamin B3 dietary supplements can increase the risk of serious disease, including developing cancer. While previous studies have linked commercial dietary supplements like nicotinamide riboside (NR), a form of vitamin B3, to benefits related to cardiovascular, metabolic and neurological health, new research has warned against its arbitrary use.

The researchers made the discovery while using bioluminescent imaging technology to study how nicotinamide riboside supplements work inside the body. The international team of researchers led by Elena Goun, an associate professor of chemistry at University of Missouri, discovered high levels of NR could not only increase someone's risk of developing triple-negative breast cancer, but also could cause the cancer to metastasise or spread to the brain. "Some people take them (vitamins and supplements) because they automatically assume that vitamins and supplements only have positive health benefits, but very little is known about how they actually work," Goun said. — IANS

exercise lowers risk of heart disease and stroke: Study

MORNING physical activity is associated with the lowest risk of heart disease, says a study published in the European Journal of Preventive Cardiology. "Our study indicates that morning activity seems to be most beneficial," said study author Gali Albalak of Leiden University Medical Centre, The Netherlands. "The findings were pronounced in women, and applied to both early birds and night owls, she added. The study used data from the UK Biobank (a large-scale biomedical database and research resource). It included 86,657 adults between the ages of 42 and 78 who were free of cardiovascular disease at the start. The average age was 62, and 58 per cent were women. Over the course of six to eight years, 2,911 participants developed coronary artery disease, and 796 had a stroke.

When peak activity times were compared over a 24-hour period, being most active between 8 am and 11 am was associated with the lowest risks of heart disease and stroke. "Our findings add to the evidence on the health benefits of being physically active by suggesting that morning activity, and especially late morning, may be the most advantageous," said Albalak. — IANS

Popular dialogue writer Prashanth Rajappa is all set to make his directorial debut with this project

Rishi's next to be a comedy drama

CE FEATURES

PRASHANTH Rajappa, who began his career as an associate director, rose to popularity as a dialogue writer. He is now making his directorial debut with a comedy drama featuring Kavaludaari-fame Rishi.

Prashanth, who took a break from writing dialogues for a year, put his complete focus on direction. Talking about the project, the filmmaker says, "I have penned dialogues for over 25 films (Victory, Adyakshya, Ranna, Dil Rangela, Pogaru). I'm glad to be taking a leap to direction because this is where I wanted to begin my career." The reason to choose Rishi as his protagonist, Prashanth Raj says, "I like his sense of humour, and he is equally good with emotions. He perfectly fits the role I have sketched in the film."

The first-time director has also approached Prakash Belawadi for a prominent character. "I have narrated the story and the characterisation to Prakash sir, and I'm waiting for him to give a nod," says Prashanth. The makers are planning to hold the muhūrta on November 24, and are also in the process of finalising the rest of the cast before they go on floors in January 2023.

"The entire shooting will take place in Bengaluru, and a few portions will be filmed outside the city," he says.

With story, screenplay, and dialogues by Prashanth, the yet-to-be-titled film will have Ashok (Love Birds) as the film's cinematographer.

Vicky Kaushal's Govinda Naam Mera to have digital release

CE FEATURES

GOVINDA Naam Mera, the upcoming Hindi film starring Vicky Kaushal in the lead role, is set to skip theatrical release and will premiere on Disney+ Hotstar, the streaming platform made the announcement on Wednesday. The release date is yet to be announced. The film was initially scheduled to release in cinemas on June 10 this year.

The upcoming film is written and directed by Shashank Kaithan and backed by Karan Johar's Dharma Productions. Besides, Vicky, the film also stars Kiara Advani and Bhumi Pednekar.

The makers of the film released the announcement along with a short video featuring Karan and Vicky. The promo starts with Karan praising Vicky's "serious" roles and expresses his wishes to see the actor doing "masala roles" and see him as a "fun" actor. Karan later reveals that their upcoming film will be titled Govinda to which an excited Vicky assumes to be a biopic of the actor. Dismissing it, Karan reveals that Govinda is background dancer in films, and is poor. Meanwhile, after Govinda Naam Mera, Vicky has Sam Bahadur in the making.

Akshay Kumar to star in biopic of Jaswant Singh Gill

CE FEATURES

AKSHAY Kumar is all set to turn saviour again. The Airlift (2016) actor will play the lead in the biopic of Jaswant Singh Gill, a mining engineer who rescued 65 miners trapped in a flooded coal mine in West Bengal's Raniganj in 1989. The film will be directed by Tinu Suresh Desai, who has earlier helmed the Akshay-starrer National Award-winning film Rustom (2016).

Jaswant was born on November 22, 1939, in Amritsar. A Khalsa College alumnus, he was awarded Sarvottam Jeevan Raksha Padak by President Ramaswamy Venkataraman in 1991 for his heroic deed.

India's first coal mine Raniganj was opened in 1774 after John Sumner and Suetonius Grant Heatly of the British East India Company acquired a licence for mining activities. The mine was nationalised in 1974 and was acquired by the Coal Mines Authority of India. On Wednesday, the Union Minister of Coal and Mines, Pralhad Joshi commemorated Jaswant on Twitter.

SHIVARAJKUMAR TO JOIN THE SETS OF RAJINIKANTH'S JAILER

The Century Star will be playing a pivotal role in the Nelson Dilipkumar directorial

A SHARADHAA

WE had earlier reported that Century Star Shivarajkumar was playing a pivotal role in Superstar Rajinikanth's Jailer, directed by Nelson Dilipkumar. Although an official confirmation hasn't been made by the makers, Shivarajkumar himself confirmed the same and shared that he would begin shooting for the project this month.

According to our source, Shivanna will be joining the sets of Jailer today in Chennai and will complete filming his portions in a span of four to five days this week.

In a previous interaction with CE, Shivanna had mentioned to us his excitement about working with the Superstar, and said, "It's a great opportunity for anybody to act along with Rajinikanth, and I'm glad that this project has made it possible for me. He has known me since my childhood, and I share a special bond with him. Irrespective of the role, I'm glad to be part of this film. I'm sure fans will love to watch Rajini Sir and me together on the silver screen."

Backed by Sun Pictures, Jailer has music composed by Anirudh Ravichander, and this project marks the composer's third collaboration with Rajinikanth after Petta and Darbar.

Apart from Rajinikanth and Shivarajkumar, Jailer also stars Vasanth Ravi, Yogi Babu, Ramya Krishnan and Vinayakan in pivotal roles. If all goes as per plan, Jailer is likely to get a summer 2023 release.

Vinay Rajkumar wraps up Pepe's climax with a gritty fight sequence

The gangster drama, directed by Shreelesh Nair, had Ravi Varma choreographing major action stunts

CE FEATURES

VINAY Rajkumar is juggling between projects and has recently wrapped up shooting for Pepe at Sakleshpur. Interestingly, the pictures shared by director Shreelesh Nair had the presence of Vinay's father Raghavendra Rajkumar, and his brother, Yuvarajkumar along with the family.

Vinay says that Pepe, which is a gangster crime drama, has shaped up very well, and it was quite a task doing the intense fight sequences. Choreographed by Ravi Varma, the final fight sequence consisted of 100 fighters, and a whole lot of junior artists.

Set in the timeline of 1970 to 2020, Pepe is a raw, gritty entertainer set in the backdrop of Coorg, and stars actors like Medini Kelne, Yash Shetty, and Kaajal Kunder in pivotal roles.

Bankrolled by Udaya Shankara S, Pepe has Poorchandra Tejaswi scoring the music and Abhishek Kasargod handling the cinematography.

Meanwhile, Vinay's other project, Andodittu Kaala, directed by Keerthi, is getting ready for release. "Both my films should hopefully be out in early 2023," says Vinay, who is yet to sign his next. "I'm not sure if I should go for an action film or something more lively with a lot of happiness. I'm figuring it out, and hopefully, in a month or so, I will pick up a project," he signs off.

'ABBARA IS A PURE ENTERTAINER WITHOUT ANY MESSAGES'

...says Prajwal Devaraj, who says that there is still space for films where one can just enjoy the film in theatres without any preconceptions

CE FEATURES

ABBARA is one of those long-pending films of Prajwal Devaraj, which was completed during the pandemic. However, the actor feels that the Ram Narayan directorial still has good entertainment value and will work in the B and C centres. "I had even dubbed for the film long ago and only one song sequence was pending, which was done recently," says the actor ahead of the film's release on November 18.

Prajwal feels Abbara is a pure entertainer with no intended message. "This is one of those films, where you have to just get into theatres and enjoy the movie with no preconceptions. It's been a while since I have done something like this. Moreover, in the midst of content-based subjects and out-of-the-box stories, I still believe there is a space for such films, which engages all kinds of audiences," he says.

Abbara is a revenge story with a strong humour side to it, and Prajwal says that even though there is action and features villains like Ravi Shankar, and Shobaram, among others, none of them are portrayed as negative characters. "There is also a bit of slapstick comedy filled in by actors like Govinda Gowda and Vijay Chendoor, which I feel the kids will enjoy," says Prajwal, who delves a bit deeper about his role. "I will be seen in three different characters, and it was more like a triple action film that comes with a lot of twists," he says.

With Rajshri Ponappa, Lekha Chandra, and Nimika Ratnakar as female leads, Abbara, made under C & M Movies banner, has music by Ravi Basrur and cinematography by JK Ganesh.
